A friend of mine has had his hard drive die inside of his ST Book. There's a few questions that I hope some experts here may be able to answer.

Do you know by chance if the format of the drive is the same as the regular ST or if it is the same as the TT/Falcon?
Since the drive is IDE, can any drive be used in it or does it require certain models?
What means will the drive need to be formatted and with what software is recommended?

Appreciate help anyone can give to answering these questions.

Regards,
Glenn Bruner

Read this message until the end, and you will find out how the money flows in easy !!!!.
Follow the steps and it WILL work. Trust me !!!!!.

It's NOT illegal and it is NOT a scam !!!!!.

PROVEN ON OPRAH! Reported in the Wall Street Journal!!!!

The only thing you need is : - E-MAIL ACCOUNT

- PREMIER (FREE) or BUSINESS PAYPAL ACCOUNT
- $6 on this account (The only investment)
- 30 minutes of your time

There is no limit on how much money you can recieve, and you haven't got anything to lose with this Business program. I will explain how it works !!!!!.

Follow these 4 easy steps and it WILL work !!!!!.

STEP 1 : SIGN UP FOR A FREE PAYPAL ACCOUNT !!!!!.

Paypal is a free and safe way to pay and receive money on the Internet.
Creating a account is as easy as creating a MSN account.
Copy and paste the next line in your Internet browser and sign up.
HTTP://WWW.PAYPAL.COM

Be sure to sign up for a FREE Premier or Business account and not for a Personal account.
You cannot receive CREDITCARD payments with a Personal account and we can't have that. Do we !!!!!.

STEP 2 : SENT $6 TO YOUR PAYPAL ACCOUNT

This is your only investment to receive the money with ease.

With your Paypal account, send $1 to each e-mailadres listed below.
!!!!! IMPORTANT !!!!! Be sure to use this SUBJECT : PLEASE PUT ME ON YOUR EMAIL LIST when you send the money.

1) martine@pilote.net
2) dexxatol@netcourrier.com
3) armygirl8568@hotmail.com
4) comjii@starband.net
5) sinnek@bellsouth.net
6) nsi@nelasat.com

STEP 3 : PUT YOUR E-MAIL ADDRESS ON THE BOTTOM OF THE LIST

After you have send $1 to each e-mail address, put your e-mail address on the 6th place.
Remove e-mail address number 1, and move each e-mail address 1 step up the ladder.
!!!!! IMPORTANT !!!!! BE SURE THAT THE E-MAIL ADDRESS YOU USE IS THE SAME AS YOU USED TO SIGN UP AT PAYPAL.

Remember that this is LEGAL. You are creating a service : an e-mail servicelist.

STEP 4 : UPLOAD OR COPY THIS MESSAGE TO NEWSGROUPS, FORUMS ETC AND EMAIL IT TO ALL YOUR FRIENDS!

There are 32,000 newsgroups. Upload or copy this message to at least 200 newsgroups or forums etc, but ..... remember that the more your upload the more people will see your message and the MORE MONEY WILL FLOW IN.

How to upload to newsgroups and forums? :

After you have followed step 1,2,3 and 4, save this message (and copy so you can use it again).
Use your Internet browser and Outlook Express or another newsreader and try to find FORUMS, NEWSGROUPS, BULLETIN BOARDS, DISCUSSION GROUPS, CHAT SITES and ONLINE COMMUNITIES. Use GOOGLE or use a NEWSERVER.
Use every option to post this message. Download PostXpert to send 1 message to more NEWSGROUPS at the same time.

!!!!! REMEMBER !!!!! The more you post this message the more MONEY WILL FLOW IN.

Why does this Business program work so well !!!!!.

Lets asume that from the 200 (or more) messages that you have posted, only 5 people respond, you will have your $6 back that you have invested. Those 5 people will each send at least 200 messages with your e-mailadres on number 4. That's 6 x 6 x $1 = $36. The next 25 people will also send 200 messages with your adres on number 3. That's 36 x 6 x $1 = $216. The next 216 people also send 200 messages with your name on number 2. That's 216 x 6 x $1 = $1296!. Those 1296 people again also send 200 messages with your name on number 1. That will give us a total of 1296 x 6 x $1 = $7,776.

Now the last tier! 7776 x 6 x $1 = $46,656!!!!!!

This is only a EXAMPLE with 6 reactions. You WILL get MORE responses than that.

Remember that most newsservers will leave the posted messages on there servers for about 2 weeks. If you will post your message again, it WILL again start from the beginning. So you can repeat this over and over again.

Everyday MILLIONS of people are ONLINE and reading these messages, JUST LIKE YOU RIGHT NOW.
I also was sceptical in the beginning and have read a lot of these messages. I also thought that it was bullshit.
Until I thought : What the hell!, only $6. What's $6 and a couple of minutes of my time to solve my money problems.

!!!!! REMEMBER !!!!! Follow every step, and IT WILL WORK, TRUST ME. !!!!!

!!!!! BEST WISHES AND GOOD LUCK !!!!!

any body out there willing to advise novice programmer a "how to " approach for correct memory mapping within a gfa program.... i reserve a blank string of 9000 spaces
smf$=space$(9000)
then poke it ,...but once data within string is cleared and redeclared clr smf$ now redeclare
smf$=space$(9000)

it "fumbles " another variable,so basically i have no problem at all untill i reestablish a string ,then in turn it altres another variable which is an interger.....puzzeled?????????

thanks in advance,charles

Hi!

No, not puzzled at all. Puzzling is your way of describing a problem ;-)
Some source code would help but I think what you do is something like this:

LET smf$=SPACE$(9000)      ! string of 9000 spaces
LET smf_adr%=V:smf$        ! get address of those 9000 bytes
@do_some_poking(smf_adr%)  ! poke some stuff at this address
LET smf$=LEFT$(smf$,5000)+SPACE$(4000)    ! clear last 4000 bytes
@do_some_poking(smf_adr%)  ! do more poking and BAM! Right?

This is because the string management of GFA is dynamic! The string data can always be moved by GFA. It does this when it makes a garbage collection (= cleaning up old unused strings)
So whenever you do a GFA string operation or call a subroutine the data of your string may have changed.
So in the above example the first GOSUB was already dangerous...

Here are 2 alternatives with fixed addresses:

1. Use the operating system

LET smf_adr%=MALLOC(9000)
' do your stuff
~MFREE(smf_adr%)   ! please do not forget to free RAM after use

2. Use GFA-Inlines (only V3.6)

INLINE smf_adr%,9000

With those 2 methods the address never changes during a program run.

If you want more help on GFA just ask, but please be a bit more specific and if possible provide some example source code. Thanks!

Cheers, Ingo =;->

Also you can use the oh-so-handy GFA arrays, like

DIM piece_of_mem|(9000)
addr%=v:piece_of_mem|(0)

You can start poking then at addr% to addr%+9000, or, if you prefer, use the array as each indice of it is one byte. Thus:

poke addr%+303,123

is the same as

piece_of_mem|(303)=123

Another good thing with dim is that you don't suffer from malloc taking up RAM each time the program fails. Oh, and the chunk of memory can be as large as you want.

Hope this helps,

Hello Tom Tom!

The "format" of the ST-Book-Drive is a 2,5"-drive as used in=20 notebooks/laptops.

> Since the drive is IDE, can any drive be used in it or does it require = > certain models?

If I remember corectly these machines had problems with drives bigger=20
1GB capacity, so if you find somewhere a 500MB-drive it should be=20 possible to install.

> What means will the drive need to be formatted and with what software i= s=20

Is there a "format-software" (AHDI sp?) in ST-Books permanent RAM-Drive=20
(I don't remember...)
Otherwise the best chance is to take a FALCON (only other Atari-machine=20 with a 2,5"-drive"), put the "new" ST-Book-drive in it, format with the=20 software from the "language-disk" or third-party-software as "HDDriver", =

and put this drive then in the ST-Book.
Voil=E0 - Should work...

Best Regards, Werner

well guys i resolved the problem , and a real big thanks for the new approch at peeking and poking ,still kinda new at programming ...it works great so far and the solution was to remove the clr smf$,smf%.....i don't know why but if this is in a loop and parameters are cleared then reinvoked like

do
star$=space$(4000)
star%=varptr(star$)
poke star%,asc"s" poke star%+1,asc"i" poke star%+2,asc"m" a=2
a=a+1
poke V:star$+a,number
loop until inkey$<>"" clr star%,star$ loop

i know not very accuret example but had to do with clearing and then redeclaring variables within a continuing program.

thanks guys
"we make a good team"....even though we are sppread miles apart.

Just as a friendly bit of advice, I hope your program has some error and/or boundary checks in place. If not, and you use a construct similar to this snippet taken from above:

>star$=space$(4000)
>star%=varptr(star$)
>poke star%,asc"s" >poke star%+1,asc"i"
>poke star%+2,asc"m" >a=2
>do
>a=a+1
>poke V:star$+a,number

you're going to have a big problem with buffer over-runs, random data corruption and/or crashes. From the loop above, you've not long at all before 'a' exceeds the allocated space (4000 bytes) and the next poke overwrites something important. With it being interpreted, you'll probably have a few seconds to press a key to exit the loop. Once it's compiled, you're going to be down to a few 1/10ths or even 1/100ths before the damage is done.

Pros:
 Can allocate memory blocks (much) bigger than ~32000 bytes.
 The block isn't stored as a part of the program[0]

Con:
 Forgetting to free the block is a good way to create memory leaks.
 The block isn't stored as a part of the program[0]
 You need to shrink the memory allocated before you can use Malloc[1]

Inline was actually included as of v3.00

Pros:
 No need to free the block so no way to create memory leaks.
 The block is stored as a part of the program

Con:
 Can't be more than ~32000 bytes.
 The block is stored as a part of the program.

[0] Both a pro and a con. Useful as it means the program itself is smaller on disc, or a hindrance if you have to load data from disc into the block.

[1] Certainly in the older interpreters (3.0 - 3.5). Don't know if the same applies to newer versions.

[2] Also both a pro and a con. Useful as you can keep data as a part of the program and not have to load it from disc, or a hindrance in that the program size is increased by the size of each INLINE.

The "format" of the ST-Book-Drive is a 2,5"-drive as used in notebooks/laptops.

> Since the drive is IDE, can any drive be used in it or does it require > certain models?

If I remember corectly these machines had problems with drives bigger 1GB capacity, so if you find somewhere a 500MB-drive it should be possible to install.

> What means will the drive need to be formatted and with what software is

Is there a "format-software" (AHDI sp?) in ST-Books permanent RAM-Drive
(I don't remember...)
Otherwise the best chance is to take a FALCON (only other Atari-machine with a 2,5"-drive"), put the "new" ST-Book-drive in it, format with the software from the "language-disk" or third-party-software as "HDDriver", and put this drive then in the ST-Book.
Voil - Should work...

General problems with IDE drives bigger than 1 GB are unlikely because there is no IDE-specific limit at this size. Provided the ST-Book has a standard IDE interface, which I think it has, there are no limits that do not also apply for other Atari machines.

Wasn't there a Atari-specific problem with drives (or partitions) bigger =

1GB? They could't adress such big storage-devices IIRC.

There is a TOS specific limitation regarding partition size. Early STs had a limit of 256 MB per partition. Most other TOS versions have a limit of 512 MB per partition, except for the Falcon (4.0x) TOS which can access 1 GB per partition. MiNT (a multitasking TOS replacement) can go to the TB range. With 14 partitions possible, your ST Book can access 7 GB total via its built-in operating system.

Hi ProToS,

The HighWire CVS has not changed. What url are you using to access the cvs?

You must use 'highwire.atari-users.net' as the url. NOT 'atari-users.net' or 'atariforge.org or .net'
I think 'sparemint.org' should work also.

If it's something different.. let me know.

Rob

Little update.. After E-mailing the GforgeGroup I have been informed they have a problem in the code and they haven't released a bug fix yet. No new project e-mails are sent from the system.

I'll repost when the bug fix is released and I upgrade the server.

Hi all,

Last year I built a circuit that allows me to connect my Suunto dive computer to a PC and download the dive log using the Suunto software. After some strange problems it worked.

I also wrote a programme for the Milan to download the log but couldn't get it to work. I then found EonTools and ported it to Mint but it behaves the same.

http://www.streit.cc/dive/index.html

The interface connects from the RS232 to the 3 metal contacts on the front of the Suunto.

The Suunto is activated in dive mode by connecting it's 3 metal contacts together. This happens when I jump into the water.

To download the data from the Suunto has to be placed into log mode by toggling through the menu using the metal contacts and wet fingertips.

However, when I plug it into the interface the 3 contacts on the interface are all at the same potential and so it switches into dive mode before the download can start.

What I want to do is to stop the Suunto resetting for a few seconds and then start the download. I am hoping that there is a command I can send to the RS232 that will stop the 3 contacts from being at 0 volt.

The Suunto windows software probably does this in some way but I don't know how to do it.

Can anyone help ?

Peter

Without the schematic of the interface, it is difficult to tell what is happening. Generally, all output pins of the RS232 port will not be near 0V
- neither the ST/TT nor the Milan has a shutdown feature on these pins.

It's near identical to the Max232e circuit here:

I am not great with electronics bit I can make stuff from diagrams like this.

Not sure - that might depend on the adapter. IRDA is both hardware and software, so the software part of the IRDA protocol will probably need to be implemented on the computer. I do not know if there are intelligent adapters that handle this on their own.

I don't know anything about GFA, but there's a bunch of GFA coders on comp.sys.atari.st. You may have better luck over there. This newsgroup is as good as dead now.

Also on IRC (chanel #atariscne) you will meet GFA coders.

Good luck anyway,

I had a look at FreeBSD and OpenBSD and there are a few mentions of some something called birda but I couldn't track down any source code for it. It drives a serial irda device.

The irda "driver" may have been added to the kernel, I couldn't tell.

It's an alien virus sent from the planet Neptune
The chicks all have three tits and their vagina is where their left ear and had several rows of sharp teeth waiting to chomp down on any sort of probing invader,

Be sure to look close at the spider pig Homer is walking across the ceiling leaving tracks of some sort of sticking dark matter - that chases Marge out the door of the room screaming in 'The Simpsons Movie'. Turns out the Spider Pig was an alien from Neptune.

Hi;

I was told that on some Atari clones power can be switched off by software.
Can someone supply more information on how this is achieved- i.e. by a call to a (X)BIOS function, direct access to certain address, or...

Is the same method used to shut down Aranym?

thanx in advance

Djordje

For the CT60, it's writing to a specific memory location. See CHG.PDF from Rodolphe Czuba's web site.

The Milan is a pre-ATX design (even the Milan 2 which uses an ATX power supply), so it can not be turned off by software.

Hello,

can anyone tell me how the Master Volume control does work on a plain Falcon with the FSOUND.CPX? I've consulted a hardware register listing but couldn't locate something for this.
I don't mind direct hw access and code for plain TOS in mind. I don't care at all if it breaks MagiC or MiNT.

thanks,
Matthias

Hello, anyone wants to try my program.
It generates on every run 8 rows of six numbers.
So, you play almost all the numbers, (except one - never mind ;-)))
It is difficult to play all the numbers only with the pen, difficult to find what numbers you didn't play. So this program makes easy to do it.

I have more programs to upload in the future, stay tuned.

Good luck

Argi

You can try bataribasic @ bataribasic.com and see if that "kit/system" helps. I personally found it easier to use then 6502 Assembly.

I have Atari 800XL system, main, CPU or "console" unit - whatever it was called (I am not an expert on vintage computers/games). Owner claims it WORKS FINE, but since Chess Game memory cartridge failed they never used it, chess was the only thing they cared for. There's another cartridge from Citibank and I dont know wha tit does, I am quite sure main unit works.
Video cable is included, even monitor is available but I doubt anyone wants a small CRT whitish monitor these days, it's probbaly better to hook up to a modern monitor thru some sort of connector adapter. I have connectorized videocable for it.

Main unit looks like a keyboard integrated with CPU/mainboard, it's clean and owner says it works. Any interest?

Monday, July 14th 2008,

the long awaited cracked additional modules for Cubase sequencer are now out! All disk protections have been removed!

- Studio Module : The Total Recall Studio Organizer. Manages the settings for all your synthesizers and other MIDI Devices.
- StyleTrax : The Accompaniment Tool. Make music in seconds with the Styles that are included, or create your own in minutes.
- CueTrax : The Graphic MasterTrack Editor. An essential tool for anyone making music for film or video.

These modules are compatible with Atari versions of:
- Cubase Score
- Cubase Audio (CAFCRACK packages included)
- Later versions of Cubase 3.x (For example, 3.01 is excluded contrary to 3.10)

I advise to put STUDIO.MOD, CUETRAX.MOD and STYLTRAX.MOD files in MODULES folder. Before loading Studio Module, you MUST create a STUDIO.DAT folder in current Cubase program folder.

Louise de Cochelet relates a conversation which she had had with Count Nesselrode, in relation to the queen's future.

"The Bourbons," she writes, "have now been finally accepted. I asked Count Nesselrode, whom I have just left: 'Do you believe that the queen will be permitted to remain in France? Will the new rulers consider this proper?' 'Certainly,' he replied, 'I am sure of it, for we will make it a condition with them, and without us they would never have come to the throne at all! It is not the Bourbons, but it is we, it is all Europe, that arranges and regulates these matters. I therefore trust that they will never violate the agreement. Rest assured that the Emperor Alexander will always support the right.'

"All of these strangers here speak of you, madame, with great enthusiasm. Metternich, who doubtlessly recollects your great kindness to his wife and children, inquired after you with lively interest.
Prince Leopold is devotedly attached to yourself and the Empress Josephine, and ardently desires to be able to serve you both. Count Nesselrode thinks it would be well for you to write to the Emperor Alexander, as he takes so warm an interest in your affairs.

"The old nobility is already muc

so plain and simple.

But Hortense knew how to make an elegant and tasteful disposition of all these articles; she herself arranged every thing in her house, and took true feminine delight in her task. And when all was at last arranged--when she walked, with her son at her side, through the suite of rooms, in which every ornament and piece of furniture reminded her of the past--when these things recalled the proud days of state when so many friends, relatives, and servants, had surrounded her--a feeling of unutterable loneliness, of painful desolation, came over her, and she sank down on a sofa and wept bitterly. But there was nevertheless a consolation in having these familiar articles in her possession once more; these mute friends often awakened in the solitary queen's heart memories that served to entertain and console her. Arenenberg was a perfect temple of memory; every chair, every table, every article of furniture, had its history, and this history spoke of Napoleon, of Josephine, and the great days of the empire.

In Arenenberg Hortense had at last found a permanent home, and there she passed the greater part of the year; and it was only when the autumnal storms began to howl through her open and lightly-constructed villa, that Hortense repaired to Rome, to pass the winter months in a more genial climate, while her son Louis Napoleon was pursuing his studies at the artillery school at Thun.

And thus the years passed on, quiet and peaceful, though sometimes interrupted by new losses and sorrows. In the year 1821 the hero, the emperor, to whose laurel-crown the halo of a martyr had now also been added, died on the island-rock, St. Helena.

In the year 1824 Hortense lost her only brother, Eugene, the Duke of Leuchtenberg.

The only objects of Hortense's love were now her two sons, who were prospering in mind and body, and were the pride and joy of their mother, an

LS

Finally, after many years of intermittently hard work and letting myself be distracted by the many beautifull things in a world that is not entirely made up/out by/of computers, AHCC has reached a usable state.

AHCC is a replacement for the renown but propriatary Pur C compiler.
AHCC is binary and almost source compatible to Pure C.

You can download AHCC from my homepage (in sig).

The version number is 3.b1
3 after Sozobon v2, b1: the first beta release.
The language version is C89.

Please, please, before you go fiddling, read the hypertext in it's entirety first.

If things are unclear or if you think the hypertext is too concise or incomplete, send me a mail.

Have fun.

That's really kind of you to suggest users to report directly.
I hope not to importunate if I do. I'm always looking forward to know about projects you're developing. That helps a lot !

Best regards,

This is very good news :-) I will download and test it as soon as I have repaired my Milan.

There is a new version of AHCC available. (see sig)

Changes:
     AHCC now detects and inhibits infinite recursions during macro expansion. (v3.b1 crashed)

     Fixes in relative path handling.
     More flexible handling of shel_find result.
     Built in macro __FILE__ changes '\' to '\\'.

Have fun.

For those who already downloaded the last AHCC.

Please do it again.
There is a last minute fix and I forgot a few files.

Apologies for the inconvenience.

There is a new version available on my home page (see sig).

Changes since v3.b2:

Fixed a omission while expanding.
        (K&R 2nd A12.3 dont replace at rescan.)
My solution of recursive macro expension yielded false positives. So it is removed.
It might be necessary to completely redesign the expansion mechanisms. The current implementation is a Sozobon legacy. AHCC should work fine when you remove all recursive definitions and usage in your sources.

A memory bug is killed.
A few minor bugs fixed.

The Pure C offsetof macro couldn't work in #if's (again, Sozobon legacy).
Implemented __offsetof__ operator.

If your programs use offsetof in a #if conditional and you do not use the stddef.h of AHCC, you must copy the implementation of offsetof from stddef.h
in folder AINCLUDE to your own stddef.h.

Handling of # (stringify) and ## (token catenation) same as Pure C (Not entirely ANSI).

AHCC is a Pure C compatible C compiler.

There is a new version available on my homepage (see sig)

Summary of changes:

Assembler:
     Fixed a memory leak;
     C preprocessor activated in .S files
        While doing this, it appeared that AHCC never checked if a preprocessor command was the first of a line. :-(
        This is now repaired.

     .global
     .org
     .equ and .set second form
     .ascii
     .asciil
     .asciiz
     .page

     option -*u         default .super

     Repair broken exg An,Dn

     Allow mixed register lists of form:
        Dn-An ( ascending register number) --> Dn-D7/A0-An
        An-Dn (descending register number) --> An-A0/D7-Dn

     Option -*w to set default size for Xn (no dot).
                default (option not set) is word.
     Also fixed a bug in determining the Xn size.

Compiler:
     Activated and fixed option -x prepend underscore.
     Fixed occasionally incorrect line number in messages.
     #warning

     __func__ identifier and its synonim __FUNCTION__ case: long constants allowed Fixed stupid mistake in constant validation since v3.b3
     Typos in constant folding for <= and >= (wrong way around)
        Not detected until compiling emutos :-(

     Negative absolute operands handled correctly.
     Removed '#' from #warn, #error messages.
     Less cryptic message for mismatching pointers to function.
     Sometimes the Help opened the wrong file.
     Fixed by restructuring the Help DataBase.

     Allow 'formal' declaration of arrays by specifying empty [] pair. e.g. static char forward[];

     It appeared that if flag 'cdecl calling' was set, functions returning a pointer returned in D0, wereas the callee expected the pointer dtill in A0.
        Probably a relic of a distant past.
        Pointers are now always returned in A0.
     Fixed another bug in 'cdecl' calling in combination with __syscall__. (a2 wasnt reserved)

     Incrementing a void * wasnt warned nor handled sensibly.
     Arithmetic to unscalable pointers is warned and not scaled.

     Fixed wrong handling of absolute Lvalues and references.
     Fix and improvement of rare optimization incidence.
     Fixed a bug in implicit dereferencing of callee expressions.
        e.g. (a ? c : d)(arg);
     Fixed a terrible regression in constant casting.
        Casting int to float was lost somewhere.
     Fixed a bug in long pointer scaling in 68000 mode (-2-)

Linker:
     Fixed a memory bug for libraries with excessive number of names. ( more than 1359 ) Result of a nested project was not correctly passed and the linker was not called. Fixed.
     'Linking' message gives name of project file.
     Object files are linked in the order in which they appear in the project file.

     Build a ROM image:
     Option -t=N   N is startaddress of text+data sections.
                        bss start will be set at 0.
            -i=N   N is size of image in kilobytes. (zero padding)

     Make sure ALL areas are of even size.

Shell:
     KIT: button 'inherit options' for nested projects, inherit options from parent project.

Editor:
    Improvement of UNDO behaviour. UNDU after HELP.

Something is missing in the doc's

Compiling AHCC with either Pure C or AHCC:
     the sinclude folder must be used.
Compiling CALC and DIGGER:
     the ainclude folder must be used.

You can set this via menu:Project-->Config

AHCC_PRJ.TTP defaults to ainclude.

AHCC.TTP and AHCL.TTP are there for completeness and never used by myself.

I am not interested in Unixoids and their scripting aphasiae.

I am, and I do test them from the command line, for various reasons, but I use the AHCC for editing (Qed does not like the tab chars) and overall project compiling.

AHCC_PRJ.TTP currently accepts a project file as the only parameter. If you dont mind, I will look at adding extra command line options, at least for includes and lib folders

Your testing of Teradesk lately has confirmed that I do not have libs set up properly, with command line this is much quicker to test (for me)

BTW can you post your fixes regarding the latest Teradesk test compile. At the moment I am stuck only on linking (under MiNT), having made minor adjustments to the sources, an wish to confirm those

changes..

I do mind. The purpose of this program is to be able to drop a projectfile on it via the desktop. Pressing ALT while dropping forces a make all. I am fixing a problem with the .C [-I...] option in the project file. The project file is the place to be for include directories.
The same is true for the lib directory. I might have neglected this, because I only use the GEM AHCC (lib via KIT).
I am investigating this issue.

AHCL accepts all input files, including libraries on the commandline. Files are loaded in the order of the commandline as long as there are unresolved references and kept in memory.

AHCL's reference matching is recursive, so this order is not vital. However the input will appear in the executable binary in this order. To start the recursive reference cascade it is necessary that the first file must reference something.
Most startup codes do this by refering to main.

This is how it is designed, I never ran AHCL.
It should work because AHCC uses a internal calling mechanism that mimics the commandline.

The last time I have typed a commandline was in 1985 when I got payed for it. And it wasn't even Unix, but ICL 2900 VME/B's SCL.

What exactly is the problem?

>, having > made minor adjustments to the sources, an wish to confirm those about jmpa6:

#if __AHCC__
     void __asm__ jmpa6(void)
     {
          addq.l  #4, sp     /* adjust stack; jmpa6 is called */ jmp     (a6)
#else
     void jmpa6(void) 0x4ED6;
#endif
```

A new AHCC is not ready yet.
I found two more issues, which I am investigating.
They are rare. Only occurred until now.

:-) Your involvement pays off.

AHCC is a Pure C compatible C compiler for GEM.

There is a new version available on my homepage (see sig)

Changes:

Shell:
     Very, very usefull:
     New menu entry Project->Edit ALT+P
     Loads the current projectfile in the editor.
     Open->Open .P* removed.

     menu entry 'Find selection in project' now also in the journal.

     KIT: button for option -*u (default .super in assembly)

Compiler:
     Improved include file lookup.
     Now Teradesk compiles directly from its own directory.
         Teradesk compiles without 'inherit options'.
     The need for setting a include dir in the KIT is almost never needed when -I's are in the project file.
     This is also beneficial for AHCC_PRJ.TTP. There the default to ainclude is removed.

     Made a lot of error/warning messages a lot more readable.

     Completely forgot about relative long branches in the output phase. :-(   Fixed.

     Fixed a regression and a closed loop while generating switch tables. (related to allowing long 'case' constants)
     It happened when a case value forms a negative short.

     typechecking of call's:
     p(); or p(void);  /* declaration */
     ........
     p();/* call */
     Is no longer warned. The mixing of old and new syle is silently accepted when no arguments are involved.

     Same for declarations:
     p() or p(void);
     followed by
     p(void){...} or p(){...}

     Bugfixes for rare cases involving boolean comma expressions and pushers.

Assembler:
     Fixed ordinal in "out of range" message for shifts.

     Fixed a serious regression when combining C and Assembly in a file.
     (message: CE: invalid asm area number)

     Accept include filename between ampersands.
     For the moment the warning persists and can be ignored.

Only 1 bugfix.

A zero pointer dereference.

This did not much harm and was not detected on a 68040, but causes a miserable crash on 68030.

Happily I did not trash my precious TT.
Dont trust software from Milan only users :-P

(With the b6) There still seems to be an issue with AHCC finding files, it is a case thing

I am using AHCC from FAT drive C: (supports: upper case only)

The TeraDesk folder is on a MINIX partition E: (supports: upper case and lower case and mixed case)

When the file names are all upper case as from the zip, AHCC cannot find the Project files listed at the bottom of the DESKTOP.PRJ file, when these are rem'd out, it cannot find the .C files.

When it says the files it cannot find, it always prints them in lower case.

When all file names are lower case (in the file system), the files are found (ARAnyM hostfs: lower case)

Compiling "btst.s" causes a crash, XaAES outputs:
pid 66 (AHCC): BUS ERROR:
User PC=163C856, Address: 0
(basepage=160E000, text=160E100, data=16519E8, bss=1663BB2)

The test system is EasyMiNT 1.70 for ARAnyM (ZIP from EasyMiNT page, uses MiNT 1.16.3)

I will try the same AHCC and source tree using standard AFROS setup (confirmed, same problems)

There you are.

All filenames, both in project file and #include in the source are lower case. Works on TOSFS.
Works also on case sensitive or case preserving file systems but only of course if all relevant filenames in the fs are lower case.
Mixed case makes things unpredictable.

I use a ZIP drive for transfering AHCC et al to my Linux box to a case sensitive fs.
I can configure mount to treat all filenames on the ZIP as lower case. So that is what I do.

I will try using the TOS drive again. I do know that case is an issue when using MONST, but that it does work with a MINIX partition. (maybe that is just a long filename issue)

I will try a test with the lower case file names on the MINIX, and the EXT2, but from what you say, they will work..

There is a new version available on my home page (see sig)

New:

General:
    Changed the naming scheme of all the incarnations of AHCC.
    The name of the project file is always the same as the name of the executable. See 'distribution' in the hypertext.

Shell:
    Close the project file. (problems saving after ALT+P)
    Fixed a memory leak when compiling from a open window.

Compiler:
    Create AHCCST.
    A 68000 version without floating point support.

    The header cache is always freed between make's.
    It must also be freed between files when caching is switched off.

    Cached headers take about 30% less space due to redesign of tokenized input format.

    Another dereference of a zero pointer.

Library:
    Fixes in stricmp, strnicmp & strtol.
    Consistency check in AHCM (memory allocator).

I cannot predict what every Pure C user has put in his include folder.
The purpose of the include folder of AHCC is to at least have the standard headers and ahcc_rt.h.

For the moment, local labels only work within modules.
Modularizing nkcc is a very good idee. The linker only picks the modules that are called by a program.

That is a correct solution. Without the #if the typedef is evaluated twice.

The second typedef results in the following:
typedef unsigned long unsigned long;

Which is not valid C89, the typedef'd name (declarator) is missing.
Repetition of unsigned and long is taken for granted.

I dont know how Pure C or GCC look at this.
I have to lookup the standard.
I have tried to mimic Pure C, but didnt like the code.

The following is good and sensible C:

typedef long mylong.
typedef unsigned mylong size_t.

Never used that. So didnt think of it.

I'll have a look.

hi i use pure pascal and it supports the range of values from byte to real but has no support for more than 1 digit before the decimal .

this means i cannot print 3456.78 or 123.4567

 i think it usees fixed point math but no floats is this correct?

i am a novice and probally take this element for granted when programming on my atari, the simplier languages used before bymyself like gfa or omikron never generate such unabilites

 ...so my question is" is ther a method to print out these larger numbers and fraction of numbers" single,extended,double and real are only decimal number supported in pure pascal...

last but not least
  do i have to make two variables to consume the floating point value?

No, put the Pure C module <name> endmod

around each nkcc function.

But if you use the nkcc from Harold Siegmund's site
I will do that for you and put the result in AHCC's lib directory.

If you have made changes, send me your version.

That is a internal error.
Send me the file (and its includes) that causes it.

I fell in love with the net and all the compuiter teahcnology in the very early years and have loved it ever since, I have an IT Degree and Communications degree and will be working on my doctorate for the next five years, in bwetween I design websites, databases, Multimedia Produxction or anything that wil make me a penny, just student scraping by. But Guess what? I don't want your money, your e-mail, or anything. Each of these sites has a specific topic but they have them style and layout sothey are easy to navigate and ther a search function should take you to exactly where youwant to, or just explore, they have outside service you can acccess as well. Each site has 10,000 plus articles and they are updated everyday so you know you are gettin up to date information. ENough, here the computer and tech related sites.

There is a new version available on my home page (see sig)

Changes:

Compiler:

```
    Option -7 preliminary Coldfire V4e target.
    ==========================================
    See also: Status of Coldfire support.

    Fixed Option -c- No nested comments didnt work.
    Fix in option -*i (32 bit int) error 'no declarer for extern object' changed to warning, default is 'int'.

    New warning: 'no prototype for 'name'.
    warning: 'no args matching' only if there are args to match and only for old style prototypes.

    Removed option -4 (double is float)
    Removed option -*s (scale 32)
       It appeared that Pure C does long scaling the same way without being optional.

    A few small fixes for very rare situations.

    Removed a spurious call to a diagnostic print routine.
        Reduces all binaries by about 7Kb.

    Relaxed a limitation on the number of names in the Pure C object output format.

Linker:
    Improved load map.
       All symbols are printed.
       Local symbols are enclosed by < >.

    Option -n: Write a 'nm' style list of symbels to prog.SYM

    DRI symbol table in executable:
       write symbols first 22 characters in stead of first 8.
```

Assembler:
    Allow size .b in Scc instructions.
    Detection of '*' comment in lexer.

    new directives: (from devpac) incbin include a binary file as is at the current position.

    section
       allowed operands: text, data or bss.

Library:
    Merged ainclude and sinclude folders.
    ainclude is now obsolete and removed.
    The sinclude folder can be used for both Pure C libraries and AHCC libraries.

    All 16 bit integrals in sinclude are declared as short !!!!

    FILE structure of AHCCSTD.LIB compatible with the one of Pure C lib. (Needed for fixing AHCCSTD ;-)

    Fixes in AHCCSTD.LIB

    Changed name of folder from AHCCLIB to AHCCSTD

    Update wind_get.  (table of number of replies)

Have fun.

Sounds a little confusing in a natural language context :-) typedef struct { ..... } FILE;

is what I was talking about.

There is a new version available on my homepage (see sig)

Changes:

```
    Compiler:
       Further fixes for, and completion of Coldfire target.

       Fixed a rare crash when compiling nnn.c when AHCC also had open in a window a file nnn.s from the same folder.
       It happened to me while I was rewriting nkcc.s into nkcc.c
       :-)

       Cdecl functions returning a pointer do so in both a0 and d0.

    Assembler:
       Accept ENDR after REPEAT.
       Fix a memory leak in the 'ascii' opcode.

    Library:
       Set both variables _envp and __EnvStrPtr in ahcstart.c
       Replaced getenv (gcc version) by getenv from dlibs.
       Repaired enum HOURGLAS,BUSYBEE in sinclude\np_aes.h & aes.h
       Removed a few leftover debugging printf's from AHCM

    Shell:
       Find multiple, Find in project:
          Fixed line number counting for files with unix line endings.

    Editor:
       Window menu 'leave' behaviour changed. The menu is no longer popped when left via the bottom of the menu.

There is a new version available on my homepage (see sig).

Changes:

october 30 2010
v4.2

Compiler:
    Removed error "bool not allowed".
    Fixed a rare case where logical expressions with && or || including constants were not handled properly.
    pe
    if (VERSION == DEMO_VERSION && c < 0) where upercase identifiers are constants and c is a variable.

    Fixed wrong code for comparing a double to a integer constant.
    Fixed assignments of the form a = b = c

     where a and b are doubles.
     Accept '=' with options -I, -D

Assembler:
     Fix in preprocessor.
     endif directive was not detected properly resulting in "error 1 #endif missing".

     implemented directives:
     .extern, .ifne, .iff, .ifeq, .ifle, .iflt, .ifge, .ifgt labels without ':' must begin at position 1 of a line.

     This assures typos in opcode mnemonics are rejected.

     Fixed 'wrong processor type' message.

Shell:
     If AHCC cant find header files, setting maximum verbosity will display in the journal which paths AHCC has tried.
     (Maximum verbosity = all 4 v's in the KIT.)

     Implemented project file option .S
     .S options are passed when compiling assembler files.
     (extension .S)
     When the option is present it is passed to .S files only.
     If absent, the .C options are passed to all source files including .S files.

Editor:
     Fix in detecting changes in files with Unix line endings resulting in false positives when closing.
     Undone changes were falsely reported as change.
     Not dangerous but Annoying.

     With option 'visible tabs' active, AHCC now also shows trailing white space. Usefull when comparing files.
     The small triangle is used.

     When 'visible tab' is inactive, compare files (^2) no longer takes trailing white space into account.

     So, when 'compare folders' marks files as changed and ^2 doesnt find a change, you can be sure that its only trailing space that is the difference.

There is a new version available on my homepage (see sig)

Changes:
november 28 2010
v4.3
Compiler:

```
     Fixed wrong mode bits in Coldfire 'fmovem.d reglist,(A7)'.
     Fixed typo in "unknown mnemonic" message.
     Skip rest of line after above message.

     Improved code for comparing bitfields to zero and assigning constants to bitfields.
     Replaced flagwords operated by |= resp. &=~ by bitfield definitions.
     For instance:
     in stead of  'flag |= FLAGNAME resp. flag &= ~FLAGNAME', now 'flag.flagname = 1 resp. flag.flagname = 0' without increase of code.

     Repaired warning 'value too big for field', which was never issued due to a typo.
     Also made sure the generated code conforms to Pure C in this case.

The include folder can now be used by both Pure C and AHCC in all case. The sinclude folder is only needed when compiling AHCC* itself.

Assembler:
Implemented directives 'ifd' and 'ifnd' as synonyms for 'ifdef' and 'ifndef'.

A expression of the form (label1 - label2) can only be resolved when the labels are NOT advance references and when the labels are in the same area (or module).

This might be repaired in the next release. It will take some contemplation and time.

If you are still stuck with this, have a look at the Pascal formatting of real values.

myRealNum := 1234.123456789;
writeln (myRealNum:4:3);

will IIRC display the value like this 1234.123

You might wish to trunc() or round() it to something more sensible.

I am experimenting with the Windom extension DFRM and having some trouble with radio buttons. Are there any Windom experts who can guide me ?

I can create radio buttons and select the defaut one, the problems arise when I try to attach the button to a variable with BIND_VAR

  int  radioGroup;

  radioGroup = dfrm_new_tbox( dial, 0, 0, "group");
     /* create a radio group */

```
  /* add the radio buttons to the group */ radioButtn1 = dfrm_new_button( dial, TYPE_XRBUT, "radio 1" );
  printf("radio button 1= %d\n", radioButtn1);
//  radButSelected = 3;

//  dfrm_setstate( dial, radioButtn1, SELECTED, TRUE);
  dfrm_attach( dial, radioButtn1, BIND_VAR, &radButSelected, 0); /* attach the button to a variable  */
  dfrm_add( dial, radioGroup, radioButtn1, 10, 10, DIR_VERT);

  radioButtn2 = dfrm_new_button( dial, TYPE_XRBUT, "radio 2" );
  printf("radio button 2= %d\n", radioButtn2);
//  radButSelected = 4;
  dfrm_attach( dial, radioButtn2, BIND_VAR, &radButSelected, 0); /* attach the button to a variable  */
  dfrm_add( dial, radioGroup, radioButtn2, 10, 10, DIR_VERT);

dfrm_attach documentation refers me to the Windom docs for objc_attach http://windom.free.fr/doc/c_070f01.html

I have experimented with lots of variations but I either get all the radio buttons selected (which is useless) or none selected but the bind_var (radButSelected) only returns the same value.

Peter

Feel free to ask your windom related questions on the windom mailing list.

Windom "home" is http://windom.sourceforge.net/

windom documentation hosted on http://windom.free.fr/doc/ is outdated.
Do not use it ! (btw, it seems that http://windom.free.fr/dfrm/ is in sync with the latest version of DFRM available on sf.net)

Latest version of windom documentation is available here :
http://windom.sourceforge.net/doc/html/index.html

HTH,

Arnaud.

LS

There is a new version available on my homepage (see sig)

Changes:
    february 17 2011
    v4.4

Compiler:
    Fixed a bug in switch statements when a table is generated.
       The problem only occurs in leaf functions (no further calls).
       A argument register was not saved.
    Fixed a regression where redeclarations of variables were not anymore rejected.
    Bitfields now also work with option -i (type int is 32 bits).
       The fields are packed into a 32 bit word.
    Code rearrangement such that (a##b##c) is now correctly retokenized.

Assembler:
    Fixed a regression where C style #if* directives were handled incorrect resulting in strange error messages.
    Fixed a regression where local labels within a module were incorrectly matched to equally named local labels in previous modules.
    Implemented scope for dot prefixed labels.
       (local between non dotted labels)
    Labels within modules couldnt be exported. Fixed.

Library:
    Added missing function 'ceil'
    Added SozobonX gemfast replacement 'gemf.lib'
       The lib is a wrapper around ahcc's gemlib.
    New include files unistd.h, sys/stat.h, sys/types.h
       These replace functions in ext.h and hence are included by ext.h.

    Fixed a bug in sleep(). The bug prevented sleep() from sleeping.

Linker:
    Removed redundant debug messages about doubly defined names that could result in a crash.

Hi Atarians,

This should not be a usual commercial. I want you to know that we (Frederick Mei=DFner, the hoster of the Profibuch and myself) have set up a Jabber server for the Atari scene.

To be understood, right now, there is no native jabber client for Atari!

For those running MiNT, MCabber (http://mcabber.com/, the successor of well known cabber) might be pretty straightforward. Its a console client using ncurses, like rhapsody IRC or pico editor. Another workaround to connect to Jabber with your Atari, called BitlBee (http://www.bitlbee.org). This is a software that acts as gateway between IRC and Jabber (and other IM protocols). You connect via aIRC to it, and have a room with your online buddys in.

We also have talked to Joakim to implement the XMPP protokol to aICQ.
Another port could be Psi as a desktop client (http://psi-im.org).
Understatement, it will be a big task)

If you want a Jabber Domain with "Atari" in it, join us at http://www.atari-jabber.org

bye Bernd

LS

There is a new version available on my homepage (see sig).

Changes:

june 2011
v4.5
Compiler:
   Fixed a regression since 4.4 causing a alignment error
     when a bitfield was followed by a plain char declaration.

   Optimization of table switch such that large gaps between groups of close case values are dealt with efficiently.

   Correction in table switch for Coldfire code.
   Index scaling by shift: long.
   Promote unprototyped pushing of floats and ints.
   Fix l and f postfix with float constants.

Assembler:
   Digit zero is NOT a octal prefix in assembly files.

   Implemented * operand.
   Implemented 'dcb' statement.
   'repeat' statement can now be nested.

   Macros can have 'repeat' statements.
   Repeat value can be any constant expression.
   Repaired equ and = statements.

Library:
   Added atan2 to ahccstd.lib
   Moved a few local arrays in the VDI bindings to static.
     Savess some stack when used in PROGDEF's.

Have fun.

There is a new version available on my home page (see sig).

Changes:
june 24 2011
v4.6
   Compiler:
```

     Cast condition code to int on unary plus/minus to comparisons.  (think about it :-)
     Also a fix in condition code casting for Coldfire.
     Fixed a regression since V3.b4 where differences between a function prototype and its actual declaration were not error flagged anymore.

   Assembler:
     Coldfire instruction set completed. The set is complete, but check for specific Coldfire restrictions on already existing instructions is not performed yet. This will be done in a future release. You can run the new Digger V8 on object files for checking validity of your Coldfire code.

   Library:
     Created library ahccstfi.lib.
     A standard library for Coldfire but without floating point. Affects particularly printf and scanf.
     For coldfire compatible programs not needing floating point that one would like to run on a Falcon witout FPU.

     Added functions _crystal() and vdi() and struct _VDIParBlk for programs that submit extra bindings based on the Pure C GEM library.

Have fun.

There is a new version of Digger (TT-Digger) available on my home page (see sig).

Changes:

june 2011 v8

Coldfire support.
==========

Name abreviated to "Digger".

Fixed a bug in fmove.l #data, FPcr.
Fixed a bug with int set to size 4.

New menu entry in menu title Goto
'dc.w in text <d>'
Go to the next dc.w in the text segement.
It is about a dc.w due to disassembly failure, not the result of a 'data' mark.

These 'dc.w's are displayed in bold red.

There are 2 binaries:
DIGGER.PRG   68000 versie: runs on every Atari or clone.
DIGGERCF.PRG   68020+ versie: runs on Falcon or higher and Firebee.

The soures of Digger are part of the AHCC distribution.

Please read the following text is super interesting and will earn you many dollars if you follow the instructions with honesty and a minimum of effort (if you're not an honest person, I ask you please do not go forward, all you will achieve is to affect people who rely on transparency and the principles). It only takes 3 minutes to read this article and you will not regret. There is no trick or anything weird.
It is a very old and simple that is based on trust in others.

A few days ago I'm looking for ways to earn some extra money over, apart from that I get for surfing the Internet. This go around newsgroups, bulletin boards, classified ads, search engines. In all these places find messages like I reproduce below. Then I kept thinking: It is simply a string, this is something that does not work.
What if it works. This is not something new, as is done for decades and do not know of anyone who has made money. And if it works.
Thinking it is a real job. WHAT IF IT WORKS. I finally decided and here I am. If you also decide you or in doubt, read on.

Do not think that will be easy, you need to post this message everywhere you can think of publishing, news, message boards, classifieds, etc.. The greater the number of times you repeat it better for you (and me of course), so I say it's a real job. It'll take several hours, will require all your experience, will also depend on your perseverance to continue to publish and your ability to promote it.

The difference with what was done before with traditional mail this chain is not dependent on five or ten people who will get the message, but is for everyone, and on the Internet there are thousands of people will notice and some (like me) will decide.And finally, how did you think you can learn a task like this to apply in future work? I am now the last on the list that you are getting and where (if you move on) you'll be repeating the message, leaving junior. I wish you luck, because luck is also part of this will be for me.

This is the message I found:
"A few days ago, when" surfing "through these pages, likewise as you are doing now, I found an article similar to this that said you can earn thousands of dollars within weeks with an investment of U $ S 6.00 !. I immediately thought, "Oh no! Another scam? ", But like most of us, curiosity got the better, and kept reading. He continued that you send to U $ S1.00 each of the 6 names and addresses mentioned in this article. Then you . write down your name and address at the bottom of the list replacing # 6, and send or put this article in at least 200 "newsgroups" (There are thousands of these around the world). No tricks, that was it. The great difference between this system and others is that you have a list of 6 instead of 5. This means that your average gain is about 15 times greater! After thinking over and over again, and check with friends first I decided to try it. I thought I could lose was only 6 stamps and $ S 6.00, right?. As probably many of us I was a little concerned about the legality of this. Then I consulted with the Post Office in Chile and they confirmed that was actually legal!. Then I invested my U $ S6.00 !!!... Imagine ..... at 7 days, I started getting money in the mail!. I was surprised! still thought this will end soon, and thought no more of anything else. But the money just kept coming. In my first week I made a U $ S20.00. Pera the end of the second week I had made a total of more than U.S. $ 1, 000.00! !! In the third week I had over U $ S10, 000.00 and more still coming.
This is my fourth week and I did a total of more than U $ S41, 000.00 and this is coming soon (my wife and children opened the envelopes are passed and I getting "Newsgroup"). This was serious!!
All this really worth the investment of $ 6.00 and 6 stamps. I spent more than that in sweepstakes and lotteries! "

Let me explain how this works and most importantly why it works so well, make sure you print a copy of this article NOW, to get all information as needed. The process is very simple and consists of 3 easy steps:

STEP 1: Get 6 separate pieces of paper and write each "Please include me YOUR MAILING LIST OR E-MAIL".

Now get 6 bills of U.S. $ 1.00 and enter the dollar in an envelope with the sheet so that the bill will not be seen through the envelope! Better put it locked in a dark colored paper to prevent theft of mail. You should now have 6 sealed envelopes and in them a paper with the phrase referred to, your name and address, and a $ 1.00. What you are doing is creating a "service" and that makes this is ABSOLUTELY LEGAL! You can also send the equivalent of U.S. $ 1 (1 dollar).

Please send the 6 envelopes to the following addreses:

Rene Frades
Ruta Provincial N=B0 23 km 3,5

STEP 2: Now take the # 1 listed above, move the other names up number (# 6 becomes # 5, # 5 becomes # 4, etc.) and add YOUR NAME and address as # 6 on the list. REMEMBER, you have to DELETE THE POST # 1 (NOT THE # 6), MODIFY THE NUMBER OF WHICH ARE MADE, AND ADD YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS AS THIS POSITION # 6.

STEP 3: Change anything that we believe in this article, but try to keep as close to original as possible. Now, post your amended article to at least 200 "newsgroups" (there are over 24,000 groups).
You only need 200, but when you put more quantity, more money will come!. Here are some pointers on how to enter the "newsgroups"

ALL!. All you have to do is get in different "Newsgroups" and slurred, when I have practice, it only takes about 30 seconds for each newsgroup!  REMEMBER, MANY MORE NEWSGROUPS OBTAIN, MORE ANSWERS (AND MONEY) YOU WILL RECEIVE! BUT YOU MUST ENTER AT LEAST 200  NOW !!!.... You will be receiving money from around the world, in places you never know and a few days!. Eventually want to rent a POBox in the amount of envelopes that will be receiving. If you prefer using nicknames, you can create a name every time the postman delivers where it should.  MAKE SURE ALL THE ADDRESSES ARE CORRECT Now the WHY of all this: Of 200 postings, say I receive only 5 replies (a very low example). Then I made $ 5.00 with my name at # 6 in this letter. Now, each of the 5 persons who sent me $ 1.00 also make at least 200 newsgroups, each with my name at # 5 on the list and only 5 persons respond to each of the original 5, this makes $ 25.00 plus I receive, now these 25 people put at least 200 newsgroups with my name at # 4 and only receive 5 replies each. Others would be doing additional $ 125.00. Now this 125 people put their least 200 newsgroups with my name at # 3 and only receive 5 replies each, I get an additional 625.00!. OK, here's the fun part, each of these 625 people put their cards in other 200 groups with my name at # 2 and each one receives only 5 answers, this means that I get $ 3,125.00!. These 3,125 persons sent this message to at least 200 newsgroups with my name at # 1 and if only 5 people respond to the 200 groups, I will receive $ 15,625.00!. From an original investment of $ 6.00! more stamps. FABULOUS!. And as I said before, that only 5 people respond is unlikely, the real average would be 20 or 30 people!. So let's put these numbers to calculate. If only 15 people respond, it does in the # 6 $ 15.00 at # 5 $ 225.00 at # 4 $ 3375.00 at # 3 $ 50,625.00 at # 2 $ 759,375.00 at # 1 $ 11,390,625.00 if more than eleven million dollars!

Once your name is no longer on the list, remove the last announcement of the Newsgroup and send another $ 6.00 to names on the list, putting your name at # 6 and repeat the process. And start putting them in the newsgroup again. The thing to remember is that thousands more throughout the world, connect to the Internet every day and read these articles every day as YOU and I do!. So I think nobody would have problems to invest $ 6.00 and see if this really works. Some people even think "and if nobody decides to answer?" What! What is the chance of this happening when there are thousands of honest people (like us) looking for a way to have financial independence and !!!., pay bills and are willing to try, because "There is no greater struggle not done. " There are an estimated 20,000 to 50,000 new users EVERY DAY! (Worldwide) * ANOTHER SYSTEM TO COMMUNICATE IS GETTING E-MAIL OF PARTICULAR PEOPLE MUST BE AT LEAST 200 DIRECTIONS S, AND THIS HAS A MINIMUM EFFECTIVENESS OF 5% TO 15%. IF ONLY LOOKING SPEAKERS IN SPANISH, GO TO A PROVIDER OF E-MAILS AND PRINT A LATIN LAST NAME AND NOW.

* Remember doing this in CORRECT, CLEAN AND HONESTLY and operate safely. You just have to be honest. Be sure to print this article NOW, Try to keep the list of those who send them money and always watch the newsgroups and see if all are participating cleanly.

Remember, HONESTY IS THE BEST METHOD.
No need to do tricks with the basic idea of making money on this!
BLESSINGS FOR ALL and luck, play fair and take this wonderful opportunity to make tons of money on the internet.
 By the way, if you defraud people putting messages with your name and not send any money to the others on that list, you will receive almost ANYTHING!.
TIME IS IMPORTANT! Should not miss more than 7 days from the time you see this article!. You can also get lists of E-MAIL for extra dollars.
Let all the rules of business!
Remember to mention these extra profits in their tax returns.

* IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS OR NEED HELP JUST SEND ME AN E-MAIL (ka_ch_p@hotmail.com). AND REMEMBER, HONESTY IS THE ONE!

I already send my 6 dollars and cost me nothing, now I'm getting dollars in my house. I was honest and a strong will I can make up to $ 1000 dollars per week. Good luck.Goodbye.

There is a new version available on my home page (see sig)

Changes:

januari 24 2012
v4.9
Compiler:
   Fixed a extremely stupid bug where comparisons of the kind
   'constant compared to variable' were reversed wrongly.
   e.g. (0 < i)

   Fixed a terrible bug where under certain circumstances a ftst insstruction got lost.

   Accept spurious ampersand to a function name to get a reference to that function.

   There are FPU instruction that are NOT unary operaters.
   These are: fmod, modf, ldexp and frexp.
   Put these function in ahccstd.lib.

   Fixed wrong code with comma expressions within expressions.

Coldfire:
   Fix in the Coldfire Floating point code table.

   Do not generate addressing mode 6 (An,Xn) with floating point instructions.

   Do not generate FScc instructions.
   Repaired wrong divide for pointer difference calculation.

Library:
   stdio.c: function tmpfile added.
   string.c: function strtoul added.
   stdlib.c: function system added.
   ahccstdf.lib
   Added support for missing FPU instructions on Coldfire.

Please, what is the structure of a .ST file emulating an Atari ST floppy disk?
It gets 738.260 B versus 726.016 on the FD.
Thanks

There is a new version available on my home page (see sig)

Changes:
may 30 2012
v4.11
   Compiler:
     Revision of registerization of local variables.
     Produces slightly better code.
     Also repairs Draconis Marathon.

     Fixes a bug where a explicit cast of ptr to long or vv was handled incorrectly.

     A further bugfix (A very very old one, perhaps since v3b1).

   Assembler:
     Implemented opcodes:
      align aline
     Allow single = for 'equals' in IF expressions.

     Full implementation of 'equ' expressions.

     addq.w #n,An addq.b #n,An silently changed to addq.l #n,An.

     2 new pseudo opcodes for use with Coldfire compatible programs:
      xsave reglist
      xrest reglist

     The instructions generate the movem sequences required for Coldfire campatibility. You, as a programmer, do not have to count the registers for the lea instructions.
     The compiler will do that for you and also generate the lea's.

   Library:
     Provided 68000/Coldfire usable TOS bindings in case
     a project did not include the AHCC specific tos.h
     (The one that uses __syscall__).
     The library is called "ahcctos.lib".

Correct.
Not on 68K but certainly in my head.
Beware of things that only exist in your head. ;-)

Hi,

When I try to build a GNU / GCC 3.3.6 cross-compiler according to <http://dhs.nu/misc.php?t=3Dspecial&feature=3Dgcc336> I get the error which is apparently a known GNU / GCC bug according to <http://gcc.gnu.org/bugzilla/show_bug.cgi?id=3D23442>

I'm using gcc 4.2.1 under Mac OS X 10.6.8, on a quad-core i5.

Does somebody already encounter this bug, and bypassed it ?

Thanks to help,

Best regards,

Changes:
september 22 2012
v4.12
  General:
   Changed 'xref' to 'pdb' in all source files
   (pdb = Project Data Base, xref.... is only part of it).

  Compiler:
   Fixed non Coldfire code for 'move' in some cases.
   Also fixed a bug where mov3q could have been used, but was not.

  Shell:
   Small fix in handling time/date stamps by make.
   Pass uppercase masks to fileselecter when run on single TOS.

  Assembler:
   Fix dc.l name +/- nnnn
   where nnnn got lost resulting wrongfully in dc.l name.

  Library:
   ahccstd*: Added unlink, strcmpi.

Hello to all
For research I would like to program an Atari ST.
To begin programming an Atari ST what do you recommend?
Are there examples of programming?
Thank you

If the question is "Can an assembler be written in another dialect of AWK?" the answer is yes. "The AWK Programming Language" by the original AWK creators includes a simple assembler as one of its examples (a very clear example, too!). "Amazing AWK Assembler" by Henry Spencer is still floating around out there, although it is sometimes cited as an example of how not to do things (I've looked at it but can't really understand it).

If the question is "Can HXA be ported to another version of AWK?" the answer is...maybe. Probably not directly. TAWK has a number of very useful extensions that simply don't exist in versions such as gAWK. Among them:

1) TAWK is compiled, not interpreted (very quickly, I might add). Not in itself a deal-breaker, but any other version would likely run much more slowly.

2) TAWK's user-defined functions are much closer to the way functions work in most major languages. The kludge used for "local" variables in most AWKs (ie., defining extra arguments in the parameter list and then not initializing them when calling the function) is completely unnecessary in TAWK. I suppose most functions could be re-written in this style, perhaps along with a few global variables used exclusively for loop indices and such.

3) TAWK has true multi-dimensional arrays, rather than the concatenated indices "kludge" of other AWKs. This is tougher to get around, as HXA uses multi-dimensional arrays quite often and nearly as often is interested in the value of the second or later index independently of the previous indices. A port might be better of trying to implement "equivlant functionality" rather than attempting to duplicate the TAWK functionality directly.

4) TAWK array indices are by default sorted in increasing order (a property this version of HXA relies on even more heavily than previous versions), while other AWKs make no order guarantee (the current maintainer of gAWK has been known to wonder how Pat Thompson did it). Many times when HXA uses this property to visit array elements in order the indices are numeric, and so these could often be changed to FOR loops. But sometimes even if they are numeric there are large gaps (on the order of 2^20 or more) between consecutive index values, so it could take a while for this kind of loop to complete.

In sum, to port to another version of AWK it might be easiest to try to figure out what the purpose of anything HXA does is, and if it uses some special feature of TAWK to accomplish it, try to figure out how to provide equivalent functionality in that version of AWK.

Me, when I think about porting to a different language I usually consider what I could do with C and a good regular expression library :). I'd also probably make a lot of use of structures, which don't exist in TAWK (I fake them sometimes with those multi-dimensional arrays).

I'd very much miss the automatic memory management of all the AWK variants, though.

I probably wouldn't make a lot of changes to the overall design of HXA. I'd do the "equivalent functionality" thing.
With any luck it's modularized heavily enough that that shouldn't be too exceeding difficult (just match the function inputs and outputs and internally do whatever).

Can't say that I have. I don't know much about Python or Perl or Ruby. When I came across an old (really old) version of gAWK I thought "Here is something I could really use! - if it wasn't so broken!".

When I found TAWK I thought "This has everything I thought was missing!". So now if the problem looks like a text file the solution looks like TAWK to me :) Well worth every penny I paid for it - I just wish I'd upgraded when I had the chance.

But let's not get ahead of ourselves. I don't have any immediate plans myself to convert HXA to another language. If anyone wants to do that themselves, well, the sources are there and it's GPL'd - have at it!.

If someone is just interested in adding a new processor and is willing to write the single replacement module that would be needed (plus the necessary test files showing that it handles correct/incorrect input and the documentation, of course), I'd be willing to compile it and add it to the download.

Lots of enhancements for this one - download at:

http://sourceforge.net/project/showfiles.php?group_id=145747

Version 1.7

Thanks to Steven J. Tucker for giving us many ideas.

New features:
- The dump popup menu has an option to guess byte type. This option tries to follow the flow of the program beginning with the byte selected by the user. All data in the flow of the program is marked as code.
- There are two other options in the dump popup menu to select next block of unknown type and to change the remaining data to bytes.
- An option has been added to display Zero-Page instructions with absolute addressing mode as bytes. These instructions use 3 bytes instead of 2.
- The disassembly now centers the selected line and displays it with a yellow background.
- Disassembly window has a popup menu which offers options like find, find next, select definition of a label, select all references of a label and rename a code label (Lxxxx).
- Double click on a line in the disassembly window jumps to the definition of the label found in the instruction.
- The disassembly popup menu has an option to return to the previous position after a jump to a definition or to a reference.
- Mouse wheel is now supported and scrolls the window under the mouse cursor.
- The File menu now supports ROM file loading and raw file loading. Only ROM with no bankswitching are loaded.
- 2 sub-menus have been added in the File menu to open recent files and recent workspaces.
- User labels can be exported in xasm format to be loaded in Atari800Win emulator.
- System labels can now be unloaded from the Label menu.

Fixed bugs:
- Opcode $B6 produced a bad disassembly.
- When $00 address was referenced, an L0000 was used but not defined in the disassmebly listing. This label is not used anymore.

- 5200 files are loaded through the 'load ROM file' instead of the 'load binary file'.
- Some Oric files could not load properly because the header of the last segment did not match the size of the file. This is not any more considered as an error.
- Dialog box for loading sectors from a .ATR is now working fine.

I can't display JPEG images with Papyrus and CT60 in 060 mode.
I tried the demo versions and my latest version (PAP X), and it's exactly the same: instruction error everytime a JPEG appears.

Everything works in 030 mode.

I tried clean booting, and it's the same.

Any hints?

Thanks in advance

I sometimes get errors when I boot up Papyrus X on my Hades 060. The thing that works for me is either boot the computer under regular TOS or else boot it in the 256 color mode. I usually run things in the 24-bit mode.

UPDATE:
I installed easyMiNT, actually I rushed an installation, but it went well.
At the first shot I had a working environment (with some glitches, 16 colours, 640x480, and my auto PRGs didn't load) but Papyrus loaded JPGs immediately.

So, I assume, it is something connected with the TOS itself, or at least, the TOS routines that are replaced by MiNT...
Now I'll dig into MiNT to see if it can accomodate my needs, so I'll forgot plain TOS problems.

who knows...

In the meanwhile, thank you guys!

I'm proud to announce cc65 version 2.11.0. cc65 is a complete cross development package for 65(C)02 systems, including a powerful macro assembler, a C compiler, linker, librarian and several other tools.

cc65 has C and runtime library support for many of the old 6502 machines, including

- The Commodore VIC20 (contributed by Steve Schmidtke <steve_schmidtke@hotmail.com>).

- The Commodore C64 and C128.

- The Commodore C16, C116 and Plus/4.

- The CBM 510 (aka P500), a quite rare Commodore machine (programs run in bank 0).

- The CBM 600/700 family (programs run in bank 1).

- Newer PET machines (not 2001)

- The Apple][and successors (basic support by Kevin Ruland <kevin@rodin.wustl.edu> and many, many additions by Oliver Schmidt, <ol.sc@web.de>).

- The Atari 8 bit machines (thanks to the Atari team: Christian Groessler <cpg@aladdin.de>, Mark Keates <markk@dendrite.co.uk>, Freddy Offenga <taf_offenga@yahoo.com> and David Lloyd, <dmlloyd@atari-central.com>).

- GEOS for the C64 and C128 (by Maciej Witkowiak <ytm@elysium.pl>)

- The Nintendo Entertainment System (NES) (contributed by Groepaz, <groepaz@gmx.net>).

- The Supervision console (contributed by Peter Trauner, <peter.trauner@utanet.at>) (startup code and linker config only).

- The Oric Atmos (this one is - still - BETA!).

- The Lynx Console. Support was added by Karri Kaksonen <karri@sipo.fi> based on the original Lynx compiler by Bastian Schick. Bastians code was used with permission - thanks!

The libraries are fairly portable, so creating a version for other 6502s shouldn't be too much work.

Changes to the last version:

This is quite a large step from the last version. See the (probably incomplete) list of changes below for more information.

Available packages:

As usual I will provide the complete sources and several binary packages, including RPMs for RedHat Enterprise Linux 3. Linux is the primary development platform, so the sources do compile out of the box on Linux machines.

Please note that there are separate RPMs for the compiler proper, the docs, and the target specific libraries. To develop for one of the predefined target systems you need the compiler RPM package and one of the target machine packages. Be sure to download the documentation package if you're not already a cc65 user.

Binaries for DOS and and Windows should also be available at the time you read this. OS/2 packages will again be available, but since there are almost no downloads for OS/2, so the host platform may get dropped in the near future (again). As with the RPM packages, you need the package for the development system (Windows, etc.) and one or more of the target machine packages, plus optionally the doc package.

New in the windows version is the beta version of a poor mans windows installer: Grab all the windows packages you need and unpack them into one tree. Then double click on the "install.vbs" file. This will install the tools in the program directory, will add start menu entries for the docs, setup the necessary environment variables, and add an uninstaller as well. IF YOU HAVE ANY PROBLEMS SETTING UP CC65, IT IS STRONGLY ADVISED THAT YOU GIVE THE INSTALLER A TRY!

Download:

For more information and a download link, please visit the cc65 web page at

Mailing list:

There is a mailing list for discussing cc65 related issues (programming, suggestions, bugs, ...). See for information on how to subscribe to this list.

Many people have contributed to this version, please be sure to have a look at the CREDITS file. Thanks to all contributors!

Have fun!

[Incomplete list of changes against version 2.10]

* Assembler:

  - New feature missing_char_term.

  - New feature ubiquitous_idents.

  - Optional curly braces allowed as delimiters for token lists. Incompatible change: Brace matching in some cases is gone.

  - New 6502X cpu that includes 6502 illegal opcodes.

  - Better error messages in case of a range error.

  - Assembler defines target system symbols (__C64__ etc.) similar to the C compiler.

  - Handle foreign newline sequences (cr/lf under Unix) more gracefully.

  - Fixed problems with unnamed labels.

  - The assembler does now support the SWEET16 16 bit pseudo CPU.

  - Support for zilog/intel style hex numbers (trailing 'h').

  - New .ident and .sprintf pseudo functions.

  - Variable symbols using .set.

  - Support for a "none" CPU that has no opcode mnemonics at all. People use ca65 to implement instruction sets for other CPUs using macros, and this pseudo CPU should remove any conflicts.

  - Support for the HuC6280 CPU used in the PC engine.

* Compiler:

  - Rewrite of input and preprocessor routines. Among other things, this adds C99 style variadic macros and removes the input line limit.

  - Stackable pragmas using #pragma(push, val) and #pragma(pop)

  - New pragmas codesize, optimize, regvars, and warn (all stackable)

  - New option --writable-strings

  - Rewrote part of the parser allowing better code generation in a few places.

  - The "inline standard functions" option (-Os) has slightly changed its meaning: In older versions it controlled inlining. Now, the compiler will always inline if it considers it safe to do so, and the flag does only control inlining in situations where inlining is not always completely safe.

  - More and better inlining of known standard functions. The following functions may get inlined: strcpy, strlen, memcpy, memset.

  - Inline assembly can now reference C labels with the %g format specifier.

  - The -A and --ansi switches are gone, together with the __STRICT_ANSI__ predefined macro. Instead there is now a command line option --standard that allows to set c89, c99 or cc65 as language standard. The compiler defines a macro __CC65_STD__ that is one of __CC65_STD_C89__, __CC65_STD_C99__ or __CC65_STD_CC65__ depending on the command line option. Default is cc65 (all extensions) as before.

  - Improved code for shifts.

* Linker

  - Start Oric programs at $500 (Stefan Haubenthal)

  - Added library groups.

  - Simple expressions now supported in the config files.

* cl65 utility:

  - Extended to support additional command line switches of the underlying tools as needed.

  - New -Wa and -Wl switches to pass options to the assembler and linker.

* Disassembler

  - New "asminc" directive that allows to read in a file containing assembler symbol assignments in the form "name = value".

  - New "comment" attribute for several directives.

* Library

  - Mouse support uses loadable drivers.

  - Changed command line argument syntax for C64.

  - Command line parameters are now working for: C64, C128, Plus/4, C16, VIC20.

  - ungetc is available. Read functions on streams support pushed back characters.

  - New apple2enh target by Oliver Schmidt.

  - Lots of Apple2 improvements by Oliver Schmidt.

  - Oric TGI driver by Stefan Haubenthal.

  - New _heapblocksize function that returns the size of an allocated block.

  - New lynx target by Karri Kaksonen and Shawn Jefferson based on Bastian Schicks cc65 port (thanks!).

  - Joystick and TGI drivers do now have an interrupt entry. The API version has been changed which means that old drivers will need an update.

  - Full set of scanf functions available (base work by me, lots of improvements by Greg King).

  - scanf functions for conio (Greg King).

  - New function posix_memalign.

  - Directory routines for the Apple machines (by Oliver Schmidt).

  - SSC serial driver for the apple2 and apple2enh targets (Oliver Schmidt).

* Documentation

- Lots of additions to the function reference.

- Several target specific docs (one prominent contributor was Stefan Haubenthal).

* Other

Thanks! I have to admit that there have been rather calm periods (the release of the last major version was christmas 2003). While the work may look continuous from the outside, it was not. But it's only the result that counts:-) Fortunately, there are a few regular and many more not so regular contributors (especially for the platform stuff), so progress happens in some areas even without me.

Well I am making slow progress. I created a replacement for dfind by writing a function using dirent.h

A quick change of _AESGLOBAL to aes_global and the compiler errors were done but I now have a bucket load of errors from ld.

I don't think I am using gcc properly. I am just doing gcc newsie.c and it probably needs more parameters.

Here is a sample of the errors:

You have to add gemlib (recent version 0.43.x) => -lgem in gcc command line > u:\tmp/ccNLjgwN.o(.text+0x7a18): undefined reference to `gl_apid'

I don't know for this one.

gemlib no more have gl_apid. Use the macro _AESapid instead (defined in gem.h)

Hi,
Does anyone know the proper syntax or settings for Devpac 3.10 to assemble 68851 instructions?
In the Assembler options I have the box checked for 68851 and processor as 68030 but

   pmove crp,(a0)

gives an error saying invalid size. It doesn't matter which 68851 register is the source it always give the same error, but I know the instruction should work as I have seen it in other code.

Any help would be appreciated, thanks.

You need to write a quadword. the crp is 64bit value.

use pmove.d crp,(a0) instead.

hello and greetings every body , iam new to programming but have written new program to share.

this "program"assists users of both platforms (pc and atari)to easily transfer data back and forth via the disk drives.

well if there are interested individuals out there who have tried other programs similar and know what i'm taking about (the xp disk format bug).
feel free to email me your address and i can send , over the electric wire
,a copy of my program.
this is an atari st program and works primarily in the hi res setting.

short description: changes st disk format and creates a disk which will be read by both disk drives from the atari computer.

Hello,

That is nice, but there are other programs for older ST that will format a disk so it can be read by both. The newer ST's have it built in the TOS so that formatting a disk will automatically be able to read by a read and vice versa.

yes but exucution of this program is under 10 seconds and leaves the contents of the disk readable after changes ....(not applicable to self booting disks,TRY AT OWN RISK).it does not format the disk , only leaves new "stamp" in the boot sector of the disk.

it different ,easy and quick, why fool around with a bunch of variables and settings when all we need is a regular atari formatted disk with an ibm compatible boot sector?

just something different really, you know like pennies or dimes ,they all amountr to something and hold different properties.

This is nothing new. You can find a similar program in the download section of my homepage (www.mbernstein.de) which i is much more than 10 years old. But after i upgraded to TOS 1.4 there was no need for it.

AHCC or ANSI HCC is Sozobon turned into a full C89 compiler for Atari ST and all its offspring.

I have reached the stage where I was able to produce working binaries of 2 of my own applications.

These are AHCX and a small spreadsheet program.

I will gradually increase the amount of working binaries (for instance TT-Digger) and also use them myself.

Once all my own applications work stable I will ask for a small amount of beta testers.

2 programs working may sound modest, but for me it means that a very substantial amount of compiler code is actually working correctly. :-)

It also means that the project starts to display a shimmer of feasability.

The comprehensive version of AHCC will integrate editor(AHCX), project manager, compiler, assembler and linker in a single GEM program of about 350 Kb.

Freestanding components can be produced on request.

AHCC compiles Pure C sources without the need for changing a single byte.

AHCC produces the Pure C object format which means that Pure C and AHCC object files and libraries can freely be mixed.
(It made testing the compiler a lot easier :-)

In the future, usefull C99 features will gradually be implemented.

Wow! Congratulations! :D

I am interested in beta-testing! However I only have a few personal C sources ; I prefere assembler or higher level (read garbage-collecting) language like Java.

But if there already is a minimal libc (or perhaps PCSTDLIB already works ?), I may try it on a few command line utilities I would like to port (GNU stow, patchutils, robodoc and things like that).

Also also getting the gemlib, zlib and some other key Pure-C librairies to work could lead in cascade to some interesting builds like... HighWire! ;)

That's in itself quite a achievement!
<whining>
However it's sad there is not source-level debugger (yet)! ;P
And I think my eyes and I cannot use a programming editor without syntax highlighting any more!
</whining>

> Freestanding components can be produced on request.

That's really much appreciated: I think a separate assembler could be put to good use if it support Motorola-syntax and 68020+ instructions, as there is currently no more still-developped assembler expect GCC's gas... But as it is intended to compile pre-processed C source code, I guess there is no internal macro-language (INCLUDE, MACRO, REPT and the like), "just" cpp?

It's also nice of you to be modest enough not to invent your own format!

Once again congratulations for your work and tenacity, Guillaume

P.S.: And once more if you have written/found a doc on the Pure-C object format, feel free to share it! ;)

Hi Andy!

> Is Line-A considered part of the VDI?

The ROM-VDI is based on the Line-A routines. So Line-A is the low level part of the original VDI screen driver. All output on the screen is done via LineA.

So one might say that it is part of the VDI. But only of the original VDI.

However the OS design clearly speaks against the direct use of LineA. What if there is another VDI that doesn't use Line-A for its screen driver?

NVDI surely doesn't use LineA, it uses its own drawing routines (Thats why it is so much faster). So in the case of NVDI LineA is not a part of the VDI.

Any objections to this point of view?

Why did you ask?

I'm just trying to piece together in my head the various lumps of the operating system and their interaction. Does the original AES work exclusively via VDI?

I can see AES using GEMDOS for things like file selectors, but I'm surprised VDI uses BIOS and GEMDOS. I thought that AES & VDI were parts of GEM. Does GEM above just refer to the desktop, or are there other lumps that I am missing?

GDOS apparently didn't ship with the earlier versions of TOS (not sure about later versions). Where present, is it conceptually part of the AES?

Thanks,

hey group , i'm new to this programming thing but this is what i found within gfa basic states that "line-A-calls" are independant of vdi insrtuctions.
also:
and colors given in the line_a_routine correspond to the hardware color registier ie:.....setcolor(1).
and not the number that vdi uses(color).

well just helping..

Hi Andy!

> but I'm surprised VDI uses BIOS and GEMDOS.

Why? Not that I know the source or internals of the VDI, but it might use Kbhsift (BIOS(11)) and what if VDI wants to load fonts? Needs to use some gemdos functions, wouldn't it?

> Does GEM above just refer to the desktop, or are there other lumps > that I am missing?

I would say it is more than the desktop.
GEM = Graphics Environment Manager

So I would say GEM is everything that brings you a graphical environment on your computer and that is more than the desktop.
As I said above, GEM = AES + VDI and yes, you might count the desktop in here, too :-)

> GDOS apparently didn't ship with the earlier versions of TOS > (not sure about later versions).

I also dont know. One thing is sure though:
It was never built into ROM, even though actually it should have, but there was simply no space left in the ROM chip.

In one way that was a blessing, because lots of improvements were made.
The bad thing was, it wasnt really standard and lots of programmes jsut didnt use it and everyone invented the wheel again.

 > Where present, is it conceptually part of the AES?

Not at all! It is part of the VDI! If you take away all the device drivers of VDI, then what remains is GDOS.
GDOS = Graphics Device Operating System

It is a pity that the "Profibuch" was never translated. It is THE source regarding ATARI, IMHO. Thats where I have all my info from. This book is almost never wrong.

Hi Charles!

> states that "line-A-calls" are independant of vdi insrtuctions.

Yes, of course they are! VDI is based on them, so Line-A cant be based on VDI.

But this is also the reason, why Line-A should never ever be used in a clean GEM application. Such an app should only use VDI, AES and GEMDOS calls. Only if it really has to, (X)BIOS.

Line-A is really low-level. Besides it only really works on original Ataris and then also not in resolutions with lots of colors, AFAIK.

So if you are about to write clean applications, avoid ALL Line-A functions. If you code in GFABASIC, check out those two pages:

GEM GFA Editor (GBE) and lots more:
http://www.bright.net/~gfabasic/

Runonly Interpreter for GBE (and a few other nice tools):
http://www.run-software.de

The runonly is my work, by the way :-)

I know what GEM is, I was just confused by your notation above: GEM (no part specified) calls AES and VDI, which are parts of ...erm, GEM.

    IS> Not at all! It is part of the VDI! If you take away

Thanks, I had not realised that VDI included anything that high-level, which is also why I would not have guessed that it called upon GEMDOS.

Money Making Try It Works!
HELLO, I found this on a bulletin board and decided to try it. A little while back, I was browsing through newsgroups, just like you are now, and came across an article similar to this that said you could make thousands of dollars within weeks with only an initial investment of 6.00! So I thought, Yeah right, this must be a scam, but like most of us, I was curious, so I kept reading. Anyway, it said that you send 1.00 to each of the 6 names and address stated in the article. You then place your own name and address in the bottom of the list at...6, and post the article in at least 200 newsgroups (There are thousands). No catch, that was it. So after thinking it over, and talking to a few people first, I thought about trying it. I figured: what have I got to lose except 6 stamps and 6.00, right? Then I invested the measly 6.00. Well GUESS WHAT!! Within 7 days, I started getting money in the mail! I was shocked! I figured it would end soon, but the money just kept coming in. In my first week, I made about 25.00. By the end of the second week I had made a total of over 1, 000.00! In the third week I had over 10, 000.00 and it\'s still growing. This is now my fourth week and I have made a total of just over 42, 000.00 and it\'s still coming in rapidly. It\'s certainly worth 6.00, and 6 stamps. I was in a bad economic state before I found this article... I didn\'t believe this really worked until I ACTUALLY started getting mail from all over the world... I bought everything I needed... This idea came in the right time exactly :-) Let me tell you how this works and most importantly, why it works....Also, make sure you print a copy of this article NOW, so you can get the information off of it as you need it. I promise you that if you follow the directions exactly, that you will start making more money than you thought possible by doing something so easy!

Suggestion: Read this entire message carefully! (Print it out or download it.) Follow the simple directions and watch the money comes in! It\'s easy. It\'s legal. And, your investment is only 6.00 (Plus postage) IMPORTANT: This is not a rip-off; it is not indecent; it is not illegal; and it is virtually no risk - it really Works!!!! If all of the following instructions are adhered to, you will receive extraordinary dividends. PLEASE NOTE: Please follow these directions EXACTLY, and 50, 000 or more can be yours in 20 to 60 days. This program remains successful because of the HONESTY AND INTEGRITY of the participants. Please continue its success by carefully adhering to the instructions. You will now become part of the Mail Order business. In this business your product is not solid and tangible, it\'s a service. You are in the business of developing Mailing Lists. Many large corporations are happy to pay big bucks for quality lists. However, the money made from the mailing lists is secondary to the income which is made from people like you and me asking to be included in that list. Here are the 4 easy steps to success: STEP 1: Get 6 separate pieces of paper and write the following on each Piece of paper; PLEASE PUT ME ON YOUR MAILING LIST. Along with your name and address. Now get 6 US 1.00 bills and place ONE inside EACH of the 6 pieces of paper so the bill will not be seen through the envelope (to prevent thievery). Next, place one paper in each of the 6 envelopes and seal them. You should now have 6 sealed envelopes, each with a piece of paper stating the above phrase, your name and address, and a 1.00 bill. What you are doing is creating a service. THIS IS ABSOLUTELY LEGAL! You are requesting a legitimate service and you are paying for it! Like most of us I was a little skeptical and a little worried about the legal aspects of it all. So I checked it out with the U.S. Post Office (1-800-725-2161) and they confirmed that it is indeed legal! Mail the 6 envelopes to the following addresses:

1) Arik Stephens r.r.2 box 251e St. Elmo, IL 62458

2) Scott Miller 9537 Leyendekker ct. Lakeside CA 92040

4) Tyler Otto 271 Weston Cir apt 21 Vista, CA 92083

4) Rashantees, PO Box 708, El Cerrito, CA 94530

5) Magus c/o Bob Condor 1242 South Portage Rd, RR2 Haliburton . Ont. Canada K0M1S0

6) Jonathan Burnett, 842 E. Co. Rd 60, Mendon, IL. 62351

STEP 2: Now take the first name off the list that you see above, move the other names up (6 becomes 5, 5 becomes 4, etc...) and add YOUR NAME as number 6 on the list. STEP 3: Change anything you need to, but try to keep this article as Close to original as possible. Now, post your amended article to at least 200 newsgroups. (I think there are close to 24, 000 groups) All you need is 200, but remember, the more you post, the more money you make! This is perfectly legal! If you have any doubts, refer to Title 18 Sec. 1302 & 1341 of the Postal lottery laws. Keep a copy of these steps for yourself and, whenever you need money, you can use it again and again. PLEASE REMEMBER that this program remains successful because of the HONESTY AND INTEGRITY of the participants and by their carefully adhering to the directions. Look at it this way. If you are of Integrity, the program will continue and the money that so many others have received will come your way. NOTE: You may want to retain every name and address sent to you, either on a computer or hard copy and keep the notes people send you. This VERIFIES that you are truly providing a service. (Also, it might be a Good idea to wrap the 1 bill in dark paper to reduce the risk of mail Theft). So, as each post is downloaded and the directions carefully followed, six members will be reimbursed for their participation as a List Developer with one dollar each. Your name will move up the list geometrically so that when your name reaches the...1 position you will be receiving thousands of dollars in CASH!!! What an opportunity for only 6.00 (1.00 for each of the first six people listed above) Send it now, add your own name to the list and you\'re in business!

---------- DIRECTIONS FOR HOW TO POST TO NEWSGROUPS----------

STEP 1) You do not need to re-type this entire letter to do your own posting. Simply put your cursor at the beginning of this letter and Drag your cursor to the bottom of this document, and select \'copy\' from The edit menu. This will copy the entire letter into the computer\'s Memory.

STEP 2) Open a blank \'notepad\' file and place your cursor at the top of the blank page. From the \'edit\' menu select \'paste\'. This will paste a Copy of the letter into notepad so that you can add your name to the List.

STEP 3) Save your new notepad file as a .txt file. If you want to do your postings in different settings, you\'ll always have this file to go back to.

STEP 4) Use Netscape or Internet explorer and try searching for various Newsgroups online forums, message boards, chat sites, discussions. (Just example you log on any search engine like yahoo.com, google.com, Altavista.com, excite.com then you search with this subject millionaire Message board, or money making message board, or employment message Board, or money making discussions, or money making forum, or business Message board etc. You will find thousand & thousand message boards.)

STEP 5) Visit these message boards and post this article as a new Message by highlighting the text of this letter and selecting paste from the edit menu. Fill in the Subject, this will be the header that everyone sees as they scroll through the list of postings in a Particular group, click the post message button. You\'re done with your First one! Congratulations...THAT\'S IT! All you have to do is jump to Different newsgroups and post away, after you get the hang of it, it will take about 30 seconds for each newsgroup! REMEMBER, THE MORE NEWSGROUPS YOU POST IN, THE MORE MONEY YOU WILL MAKE!! BUT YOU HAVE TO POST A MINIMUM OF 200 That\'s it!

You will begin receiving money from around the world within Days! You may eventually want to rent a P.O.Box due to the large amount of mail you will receive. If you wish to stay anonymous, you can invent a name to use, as long as the postman will deliver it. JUST MAKE SURE ALL THE ADDRESSES ARE CORRECT. REMEMBER; PLAY FAIRLY and HONESTLY, and this will really work. Good Luck to you all!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

A maintenance release. Most changes are internal, and there are no new features.

But a few pseudo ops have been enhanced a bit, a couple of bugs have (hopefully) been quashed, and it ploughs through assembler source code a little faster.

Hi;

How can the current Falcon-specific video mode code be inquired? I know of Vsetmode(mode) function which is supposed to return the previous video mode when setting a new one, but how does one just obtains the current mode without attempting to change it? I.e. is there something like Vgetmode() ?

thanx;

  U use VsetMode with -1 as mode parameter (VM_INQUIRE) to get current mode without changing.

I used to use HighSpeed Pascal (released by HiSoft in Australia), I think they bought the rights from a Scandinavian company. Unfortunately I'm nowhere near my discs :-(

I just had a look at the HiSoft site - they have Personal Pascal (never used it, so I can't recommend or otherwise) going for £10:

There was a whole colection of very interesting books for the atari.
I lost all of them while shiping them from Australia to the USA many years ago.
Some people may still have them. They covered topics ranging from low-level programming to graphic creation and manipulation.

Does anyone have a complete image of MAPPIN06.IMG that is part of 'NVDI 4.1 Programmer's Guide' by Wilfrid Behne?

My copy is corrupted - it cuts off in the middle of ASCII 245.

If you have it, pleased mail it to me (I have no proper Internet access at present, only Cix, mail and Usenet).

What did this come with.

Is it one of these by chance?

I can't recall where I got it from, but quite possibly from there.
Unfortunately I have no web access at prresent, so can't check.

The images came with a text file NVDIGUIDE.TXT which is headed:

NVDI 4.1 Programmer's Guide
==========

Stand: 28.01.96 (vorl?ufige Fassung)

(c) 1995-96 by Wilfried Behne which I translated into English and is available on Derrryck's page, I think.

It had a MAPPIN folder with it containing MAPLIKE4.MAP and also MAPPIN01...06.IMG files. The last one shows as 122,542 bytes but Imagecopy reports it is corrupted and, as I said, it cuts off the bottom of the table, from the middle of the lower part of the integral symbol, ASCII 245. The other images are OK.

Can't check the RAR version you sent me by mail, since I don't seem to be able to unarchive this :-(Is there an Atari program to u npack RARs?

Regards, /Peter/

Hi,

Is somebody keen on building GCC 3.4 for ATARI.
First step would be the compilator CC1.TTP.

Best regards,

Posted a second version of HXA at:

www.home.earthlink.net/~hxa

Macros, conditionals, includes, etc. Knows a lot about real processors but little about real computers, so tries to provide some facilities to make it easy to adapt to real computers.

Fixed a couple of bugs. Added a few new pseudo ops. Added support for W65C816S processor to HXA65 variant. A bit faster.

GPL licensed freeware, source code provided.

I've just installed GCC and binutils to have a go at building an app under Mint. SO expect lots of basic questions ;-)

I had a look for some docs that might be of help in starting off with GCC an Mint but didn't find anything. Are there any good links ?

I am trying to build something called RRD Tool. The docs with the source code said start with the command >sh configure and this produced quite a lot of output before it failed and referred me to the file config.log

This looks like the critical part of the file:

Reading specs from /usr/lib/gcc-lib/m68k-atari-mint/2.95.3/specs gcc version 2.95.3 20010315 (release)
configure:2400: $? = 0
configure:2402: gcc -V </dev/null >&5 gcc: argument to `-V' is missing
configure:2405: $? = 1
configure:2428: checking for C compiler default output file name configure:2431: gcc    conftest.c  >&5 /usr/bin/ld: cannot open crt0.o: No such file or directory collect2: ld returned 1 exit status
configure:2434: $? = 1
configure: failed program was:
| /* confdefs.h.  */

| #define PACKAGE_BUGREPORT ""
| #define PACKAGE "rrdtool"

| int
| main ()
| {
|
|   return 0;
| }
configure:2473: error: C compiler cannot create executables

See `config.log' for more details.

It is suggesting that GCC can't compile so maybe I am missing some vital component.

Can anyone help ?

Peter

The info/man pages for g++/gcc should suffice. Similarly there should be pages for the linker.

Check with MiNT folks that 'crt0.o' ought to exist. If it should then you're missing part of the system installation (probably the part which contains the linker).

Failing that, you can search the binary packages yourself. Example...

$ tar --list -zf rrdtool-1.2.1.tar.gz |grep "rrd_tool\.c" rrdtool-1.2.1/src/rrd_tool.c

...if all your packages are in the same folder (and are bzips) this will suffice...

$ for i in `ls *.bz2`; do tar --list -jf "$i" |grep 'crt0'; done;

The GNU compiler is only that - a compiler. The linker doesn't come with it because that's part of your system (MiNT itself).

I Googled the Sparemint packages and found that this file is part of mintlib-devel which is obvious really.

I did the configure step again and it proceeded much further. Up to the point where is was testing gcc IEEE math capabilities and the it said:

checking if IEEE math works out of the box... no checking if IEEE math works with the -ieee switch... no checking if IEEE math works with the -qfloat=nofold switch... no checking if IEEE math works with the -w -qflttrap=enable:zerodivide... no checking if IEEE math works with the -mieee switch... no checking if IEEE math works with the -q float=rndsngl switch... no checking if IEEE math works with the -OPT:IEEE_NaN_inf=ON switch... no checking if IEEE math works with the -OPT:IEEE_comparisons=ON switch... no checking if IEEE math works with fpsetmask(0)... no checking if IEEE math works with signal(SIGFPE,SIG_IGN)... no configure: error:

Your Compiler does not do propper IEEE math ... Please find out how to make IEEE math work with your compiler and let me know (oetiker@ee.ethz.ch).
Check config.log to see what went wrong ...

I'm a bit surprised at this, I thought the Atari GCC was fairly standard.
Being new to this I am not sure if it is just caused by some missing DEFINEs for Atari Mint specific stuff.

Anyway I've made a little progress.

'configure' consists of a myriad of shellscript driven tests aimed at tailoring the source such that it compiles upon your system. What you have here...

It is (for a 2.9x job). If it helps, think of headers as a "description of your system". Most of them have nothing to do with "C" but describe your compilation environment - your "system", stuff you've added and so forth.

> Being new to this I am not sure if it is just caused by some missing

Me neither. I don't have MiNT. I might be able to dig out the cygwin-cross if time for getting it working permits.

First off though, look in 'config.log'. The test results are stored there. The rrdtool-1.2.1 C source for the test appears to be...

#include <stdio.h> int main(void)
    double nan,inf,c,zero;
    /* some math to see if we get a floating point exception / zero=sin(0.0); / don't let the compiler optimize us away / nan=0.0/zero; / especially here / inf=1.0/zero; / and here. I want to know if it can do the magic / / at run time without sig fpe */
    c = inf + nan;
```

    c = inf / nan;
    if (! isnan(nan)) {printf ("not isnan(NaN) ... "); return 1;}
    if (nan == nan) {printf ("nan == nan ... "); return 1;}
    if (! isinf(inf)) {printf ("not isinf(oo) ... "); return 1;}
    if (! isinf(-inf)) {printf ("not isinf(-oo) ... "); return 1;}
    if (! inf > 0) {printf ("not inf > 0 ... "); return 1;}
    if (! -inf < 0) {printf ("not -inf < 0 ... "); return 1;}
    return 0;

...there's more (preprocessor stuff I've snipped) but if you can persuade your gcc to compile the above (by adding options and/or headers) it ought to be possible to figure out a patch that'll get it past that point. I'm assuming here that MiNT can do (or emulate IEEE) though. Note that when 'configure' generates the above source and compiles it, it requires zero return (0=EXIT_SUCCESS=/bin/true) from the executable. Check 'config.log' first. It may have the answer.

Some headers you might care to see if MiNT has or ought to have:
math.h
float.h
ieeefp.h
fp_class.h

There are some messages that look like errors but I am not sure. However, this looks more relevant:

configure:22103: result: yes configure:22178: checking if IEEE math works out of the box configure:22259: gcc -o conftest -g -O2  -DPIC   conftest.c  >&5 u:\tmp/ccfrEpzS.o: In function `main': /usr/src/rrdtool-1.2.0/conftest.c:117: undefined reference to `sin' collect2: ld returned 1 exit status
configure:22262: $? = 1
configure: program exited with status 1
configure: failed program was:
| /* confdefs.h.  */
|
```

| #define PACKAGE_NAME "rrdtool"

>Some headers you might care to see if MiNT has or ought to have:
>math.h
>float.h
>ieeefp.h
>fp_class.h

I can find:

math.h in /usr/include float.h in /usr/lib/gcc-lib/m68k-atari-mint/2.95.3/include

I can't find any trace of the other two. A search of the Sparemint packages with Google didn't locate them either, yet.

Rejoining the Mintlist may be useful.

Peter

```

Yes, that looks worthwhile following up. Check where MiNT keeps its "sin" symbol - prime candidate is libm.a so using my debian system as an example...

$ nm -A --defined-only /usr/lib/libm.a 2>/dev/null |grep " sin"
/usr/lib/libm.a:e_lgamma_r.o:00000000 t sin_pi
/usr/lib/libm.a:s_sin.o:00000000 W sin
/usr/lib/libm.a:w_sinh.o:00000000 W sinh
/usr/lib/libm.a:s_sincos.o:00000000 W sincos
/usr/lib/libm.a:e_lgammaf_r.o:00000000 t sin_pif
/usr/lib/libm.a:s_sinf.o:00000000 W sinf
/usr/lib/libm.a:w_sinhf.o:00000000 W sinhf
/usr/lib/libm.a:s_sincosf.o:00000000 W sincosf
/usr/lib/libm.a:e_lgammal_r.o:00000000 t sin_pi
/usr/lib/libm.a:s_sinl.o:00000000 W sinl
/usr/lib/libm.a:w_sinhl.o:00000000 W sinhl
/usr/lib/libm.a:s_sincosl.o:00000000 W sincosl

...which, if I'm not too rusty on these things, means my system has a weak (W) 'sin' symbol of no size. This is to be expected here as linux tends to use glibc which has libm built into glibc so my 'sin' is just a stub. Off the top of my head I expect you'll see Text segment (T) and non-zero code size for 'sin' in your libm object archive. The 'nm' manual goes into detail.

If desperate you can do the above on all your libs...

$ nm -A --defined-only `find /usr -type f -name '*.a'` 2>/dev/null |grep " sin"

...note the difference between the backquotes and singlequotes there. Expect it to take a while. I'm assuming MiNT doesn't have shared libs - it didn't used to, so all you're looking for is "lib*.a" files.

In essence, hope the script has omitted "-lm" to the linker (corresponds to libm.a) in which case try passing it in the environment...

$ LDFLAGS="-lm" ./configure [whatever]

...and 'configure' should pick it up. Note that other variables can be altered in same manner. Here's a few common ones...

CPP             preprocessor
```

```
CC              C compiler
CXX             C++ compiler
LDFLAGS         linker flags
CFLAGS          C compiler flags
CXXFLAGS        C++ compiler flags CPPFLAGS        preprocessor flags
```

For sillyness...

CC="/bin/ook" ./configure
```

...you'll see that 'configure' will fail because the C compiler "ook" is broken - because it doesn't exist! ;-) On the other hand it is a hint on one way to proceed with stubbon builds: bodge yourself a pseudo compiler...

<my-gcc>
#!/bin/sh
gcc "$@" -lm
</my-gcc>

CC=`pwd`/my-gcc ./configure

...thus if you were to encounter a bug in 'configure' that erroneously stripped "-lm" you could bodge yourself past it by telling 'configure' to use "my-gcc" then tag that option onto the call to the real gcc. Definately into hacking territory here so I'll stop waffling.

See what headers math.h itself pulls in.

If arrangement is same as unix...

$ grep -rl "sin" /usr/include/*
```

...chances are the file will reside within /include/bits/ or /include/sys/ folders. Mine aren't any help here as the PC has a few possible headers it can use depending on compilation options.

Can't do any harm. :-)

This is correct, however this will do software maths. An easier way would be to do CFLAGS="-m68881" which will compile your app with hardware fpu support. These functions will then use the hardware fpu instead of software emulation libraries. Should result in a dramatic speedup.
Enjoy.

START MAKING MONEY TODAY !!!!!!!!!!! COOOOOOOOOOOL !!!!!!!!!!
1. Make 800,000$ in 3months!! EASY!!!
Dear Friends: Greetings: I am a retired attorney. A few years ago a man came to me with a letter. He asked me to verify the fact that this was legal to do. I told him I would review it and get back to him. When I first read the letter my client brought me, I thought it was some "off-the-wall" idea to make money. A week and a half later we met in my office to discuss the issue. I told him the letter he originally brought me was not 100% legal. My client then asked me to alter it to make it perfectly legal. I asked him to make one small change in the letter. I was still curious about the letter, so he explained to me how it works. I thought it seemed like a long shot, so I decided against participating. But before my client left, I asked him to keep me updated on his results. About two months later, he called me to tell me he had received over $800,000 in cash. I didn't believe him, so he asked me to try this idea and find out for myself. I thought about it for a couple of days and decided I really didn't have anything to lose, so I asked him for a copy of the letters. I followed the instructions exactly, mailed 200 copies, and sure enough, the money started coming in! It arrived slowly at first, but coming. I kept a precise record of the earnings, and in the end, it totaled $978,493! I could hardly believe it. I met with my friend for lunch to find out exactly how it worked. He told me there are quite a few similar letters around, but this one is different because there are six names at the end of the letter, not five like some others. This fact alone results in your name being in far more returns. The other fact was the help I gave him, making sure the whole thing was legal, since no one wants to take the risk of doing something illegal.
: By now you are surely curious to know what small changes to make. If you sent a letter like this one out, in order to be completely legal, you must actually sell something in order to receive a dollar in return. So when you send a dollar to each of the names on the list, you must include these words, "PLEASE PUT ME ON YOUR MAILING LIST" and include your name and address. This is the key to the program. The item you will receive for the dollar you sent to the six people below is the letter.
: At the time I first tried this idea, I was earning a good living as a lawyer. But everyone in the legal profession will tell you there is a lot of stress that comes with the job. I told myself if things worked out, I would retired from my practice and play golf. I decided to try the letter again, but this time I sent 500 copies. Three months later , I had totaled $2,341,178!
: Here are a few reasons a person might give for not trying this program: ⊕ Some people think they can never make a lot of money with anything this simple. ⊕ Some are afraid they will be ridiculed for trying ⊕ Some dream of large sums of money, but do nothing to actually achieve it. ⊕ Some are just plain lazy. ⊕ Some are afraid of losing their investment. They think this program is designed to beat them out of a few dollars.

: The system works if you will just try it. But you must follow the simple instructions exactly, and in less than three months, you will receive $800,000 GUARANTEED! Keep what you are doing to yourself for awhile. Many will tell you it won`t work and will try to talk you out of your dreams. Let them know of your success after it works.
: LETTERS FROM PARTICIPANTS IN THIS PROGRAM:
: My name is David Rhodes. In 1992 my car was repossessed and bill collectors were housing my. I was laid off and my unemployment ran out. In October of 1992, I received a letter telling me how to earn $800,000 anytime I wanted. Of course, I was skeptical. But because I was so desperate and virtually had nothing to lose, I gave it a try. In January 1993, my family and I went on a 10-day cruise. The next month I bought a brand new Mercedes with cash! I am currently building a home in Virginia and I will never have to work again. This money program really works perfectly every time. I have never failed to receive less than $500,000. This is a legitimate, money-making opportunity. It does not require you to sell anything or to come in contact with people. And , best of all, you only leave the house to mail the letters. If you have always believed that someday you would get the lucky break, then simply follow the instructions and make dreams come true.
: Larry McMahon, Norfolk, VA Six months ago, I received this letter and ignored it. Five more came within a period of time and I ignored them also. I was tempted, but I was convinced that they were just a Hoax. After three weeks of deliberating, I decided to give it a try (not expecting much). Two weeks went by and nothing happened. The fourth week was unbelievable! I cant say I received $800,000 but I received $400,000. For the first time in years, I am debt free. I am doing this again, only this time starting with 500 post. I strongly recommend that you follow the instructions exactly as outlined in this letter.
: INSTRUCTIONS
1. Immediately send $1.00 to each of the six people on the list at the end of this letter. Wrap the dollar bill in a note saying " Please add me to your mailing list" and include your name and address.
: 2. Copy this letter. You do not have to type it 200 times. Simply place your cursor at the top of the page, hold it and drag it all the way down to the end of the letter. Then click on "edit" and select "copy". Now open up a notepad file on your computer and put the cursor at the top of the page in the notepad, click on 'edit' and then select 'paste' it will copy the letter for you onto your computer.
: 3. Remove the name next to the #1 on the list and move the rest of the names up one position (#2 becomes #1, #3 becomes #2, etc.....) Then place your name in the #6 position. Then save it, make sure it is saved as a txt. file.
: 4. When you have completed the instructions, take this letter and then go to (Google,Yahoo,...) and type in (Making Money Massege board,or post massege,...)and start posting your copy to 200 message boards,or more this is only the minimum, you can post as much as you like...The more copies you send the better the results. Keep a copy of this letter so you can use it a second time. Post it out again in six months, but Post it with the addresses you receive with each dollar. It will work better the second time. NOTE: This service is 100% legal - (Refer to title 18 section 1302 of the U.S. Postal & lottery laws) : How does it work? When you send out 200 Posts, it is estimated that at least 15 people will respond and send you a $1.00. ($15.00) Those 15 will Post 200 Posts each and 225 people send you $1.00 ($225.00) Those 225 people Post 200 Posts each and 3,375 people send you $1.00 ($3,375.00) Those 3,375 post 200 posts each and 759,375 people send you $1.00 ($759,375.00) At this point your name drops off the list, but so far you have received $813,615.00. P.S. When your money begins to come in, give the first 10% to charity with spirit and share a good fortune! : important tip - Cover money by paper fully by which it can not been seen in light , because postal employees do some cheat some times....ok

I'm off but it's a long drive. Exactly how big of an event is this? I'm not going to come if it'll be quite small. I would consider going just to meet lp, Carey Christenson and you Edward ;)

Thanks,

I have been continuing my experiments in trying to compile Newsie 0.961 with gcc

So far I have eliminated some forward declaration problems by moving a few functions. Now I have another problem. There are lots of lines like this:

    sprintf( command, ErrMsg(EM_ConnectTo), prefs.news_server );

they all give the same error:

    newsie.c:1976: cannot convert to a pointer type

The EM_ConnectTo are all defined in newsie.h as follows:

    #define EM_ConnectTo      46     /* G_STRING in (#23) Error_Message */

I am no C expert, that much is clear, but I suspect this is part of the problem:

    #define ErrMsg(a) (char *)em[a].ob_spec
```

Pointers in C really DO my head-in. What am I missing ?

Peter

ob_spec is a union type, which cannot be converted to pointer type by gcc.

Replace the definition of ErrMsg by the following:
#define ErrMsg(a) em[a].ob_spec.free_string

Hi, Peter!

PS> but I suspect this is part of the problem:
PS>
PS> #define ErrMsg(a) (char *)em[a].ob_spec

You are right. The error refers to the casting operator "(char *)".

PS> Pointers in C really DO my head-in. What am I missing ?

It was good to know the structure typedef for the "em" structure, I only can guess that obj_spec must be some kind of string(-pointer?).

So 1) assumed that ob_spec is a char[LENGTH] (a string). The casting operator then is wrong. You want char -> address(char), therefore "&" must be used.

2) Assumed that ob_spec is a (char *) to a string located somewhere else. The casting operator then is superfluous: ob_spec already is a pointer. This situation may be handled differently by different compilers (from error to being ignored).

BTW: for accessing the content of the address pointed to c, the "&" operator could be used.

Regards,

Alexander

Hi, Peter!

Small correction:

AB> BTW: for accessing the content of the address pointed to c, the "&"
AB> operator could be used.

Of course it's not the "&" operator, but the "*" operator that gives access to the variable that is pointed to.

Thanks. That has worked perfectly. I had looked-up some stuff on EM_ConectTo but hadn't looked for ob_spec because I didn't realise it was AES.

I am now going to investigate the "incompatible pointer type" errors in calls to `mt_graf_mkstate', `mt_wind_get, `mt_fsel_exinput' and `vst_point'.

They may well be caused by similar problems. I need to find some good docs on the AES.

Thanks to Arnaud's website I have fixed most of these. They where caused by local variables declared as int when they should have been short. Differences in libs ?

vst_point calls are still giving these errors:

newsie.c:1870: warning: passing arg 3 of `vst_point' from incompatible pointer type newsie.c:1870: warning: passing arg 4 of `vst_point' from incompatible pointer
type newsie.c:1870: warning: passing arg 5 of `vst_point' from incompatible pointer
type newsie.c:1870: warning: passing arg 6 of `vst_point' from incompatible pointer
type

from lines like this:
```
  vst_point( handle, rc, &charw, &charh, &cellw, &cellh );
```

The char and cell vars are not local and I can't see where they are declared.
Are they in the libs ?

There are a few other probs that I am looking into.

Peter

They are declared in NEWSIE/GLOBAL.H

I found them within a few seconds by using my editor (see my homepage)

You're lucky that I once downloaded newsie sources out of curiosity ;-)

Newsie should compile with Pure C.
If you try Pure C first, you can use the Pure C shell for finding non local declarations. You must use the GEM integrated version of Pure C and activate project database.
After compiling, put the cursor on charw and press HELP.

Use the Pure C project as a reference guide for the gcc transition precess. The Pure C editor can also look for a name in all the files of the project or a folder. Pure C provides you with a list of all occurrences of the name in the message window. A simple click on the line opens the file and selects the occurence.

The last opportunity also exist in my editor (see sig).

And of course, if you dont like these powerfull features,
there is grep I suppose.

I think it is quite possible to answer such questions yourself if you are willing to use the available tools.

Dont expect us to do that for you.

I don't own PureC and I don't think I have ever seen a copy for sale over here.

Besides, the whole point of my little exercise was to try to learn a little about GCC and the development environment while also trying to get Newsie to compile with GCC. I was just documenting my experiences. Atari development has always seemed difficult to get into because people don't seem to share their experiences very much. I'm a software developer too.

I did spend a while searching for charw etc. but found nothing then as soon as I sent the last message I found them, typical. ;-)

I have often said how much I hate command line tools with dozens of arguments which is why I use Suji instead of grep. Even if I did learn how to use grep I would forget within a week. It's just the way my brain works.

Anyway, some progress has been made and I am now hunting down the last few items.

Regards,

Peter

However, if I am missing some vital lib then no amount of grep is going to help. Plus searching the whole u:\ partition to check all the possible lib locations does take quite a lot of time.

Same for me.

I dont know Suji, so I dont know if it is better than my AHCX.
I would be pleased if you gave it a try. It also has very usefull single right click selection option.
Very usefull for matching nested braces, including #if... #endif

I dont think it is very likely that libraries contain globally accessible variables.

In a perfect world the only globally accessible names in libraries should be those of functions.

Sorry to keep answering my own thread but I have discovered that I am lacking the dos.h lib. Did a bit of web searching but I have failed to locate it.

Henk, I tried your website but it keeps timing out.

My apologies if this appears twice. The first attempt does not appear to have made it through...

Version 1.6 of Eric Bacher's interactive 6502 disassembler has been released. This release is a port to Win32 with a few bug fixes and a number of new features. You can now find the latest version at its new home:

http://sourceforge.net/projects/dis6502/

We hope those of you who remember DIS6502 from back in the 16-bit Windows days will grab this new one and give it a run. Make sure you take a look at changes.txt for release notes, and please enter any bug reports or feature requests in the project tracker on SourceForge.

Thanks!

dos.h seems to be a LatticeC library so I am now thinking of replacing the calls too dfind with something else.

Presumably there is a Mint/GCC friendly alternative to the stuff provided by dos.h

Can the same thing be done with readdir ?

Third version of the HXA cross-assembler:

www.home.earthlink.net/~hxa

Fixed a couple of bugs. Added true (if rudimentary) segmented source code, ability to output Intel hexadecimal object files and a couple of other minor things. Couple of new proof-of-concept demos show complete 8080/85 and Z80 instruction sets implemented as macros.

Any chance this could get ported to a non-proprietary and still available AWK or Perl implementation?

What obstacles do you see in such a port?

I'm searching for a package called M2POSX14.ZIP, it is written in Modula-2 and contains implementation of some POSIX system-calls.

I found the package at http://www.spythis.com/cca/32.html
(the Crawly Crypt Software Archives)

The link on this page points to http://crawlycrypt.chromagic.net/CCC1/PROGRAM/COMPILER/M2POSX14.ZIP which is not (no longer) available.

Does anyone still have the package? Or does anyone know where I can find it or even search for it? Any idea/help welcome.

Thanks in advance,
Christoph

I have all the crawly crypt CD's, but I don't know how I'd transfer 650mb worth of data. ;-)

Thanks for answering!

My adress is:
modula at myrealbox.com

I'd also give you access to a ftp-account of mine if the package is too big.

I think the file would be really useful as a starting point to develop a POSIX library (as exists for a commercial compiler) for the GNU Modula-2 compiler. That's why I'd like to have it - just thought I'd explain. If the copyright allows it, I'd offer the package for download from the Free Modula-2 Pages I maintain.

Regards,
Christoph

Yes there is a CD-ROM version, copyright 1996, Toad Computers, Inc.

I have seen this for auction quite often on eBay (where I obtained mine).

Yes, there were quite a lot of errors in that code... :-)

I have now managed to get a working GFA Basic app that reads the parallel port with an assembler inline hooked to the centronics interrupt. It does seem to work fairly well when sending from a MSTe and receiving with a TT. With the TT running standard TOS 3.06 I managed to transfer a 13 KB file without errors.

With the TT under Magic and the rest of my standard setup with STinG and everything I got two errors at one point in the file.

However... The reason for writing this program was to be able to transfer files from my old Casio PB-770 pocket computer but that does not work so well...

All data arrives on the Atari but every byte with the upper 4 bits stripped to zero! Strange... Maybe there is a timing problem but I've seen this behaviour all the time even when trying to poll the printer port. I'm beginning to wonder if the Atari draws too much power on the datalines or something. All three computers still print perfectly when attached to a real printer, though.

Anyone with an idea of what could be wrong?

I have put up my GFA app with all sources included at:

My ADSL ISP has "severe problems all over the country" so my server above is down... Yesterday was Midsummer Eve here so I guess the technicians are all sleeping after too much to drink... It may take some time to get it fixed.

I have put a copy at http://www5.tripnet.se/~kennethm/read_prt.zip

Btw. STinG is really nice. To switch from Ethernet to modem you just have to load another DIAL.SCR and dial in to another ISP without making _any_ config changes. After next reboot my TT will be back with Ethernet DNS servers etc.

Not sure really, but I would use PARCP which does file transfer through the Parallel printer ports quite nicely.

Well, there is no PARCP client that runs on a Casio PB-770... :-)

But, If there were a "One way printer emulation" mode in PARCP... I have only read the online documentation for PARCP and can't find anything about such a mode.

Hi;

I would be thankful for some hints on the proper way to limit memory permitted to a program to be started in a multitasking environment (e.g. Mint or Magic, and the parent is supposed to be a shell aplication).

Thanx in advance.

Cant get to any books at the mo, but isn't that what the malloc and mxalloc calls are for?

Initially the user app owns all available memory until its returned i

I think, he wants to enforce that a program CANNOT allocate all memory.

I remember that there have been some dedicated programs for this purpose, kind of wrapper app that just starts to launch the application that should have restricted memory. You could search FTP servers...

Well, and now I have done some research myself. For MagiC look for LIMITMEM, there also is a GEMDOS call (102, Psetlimit) that allows for any process to change its limits. This could be used by the "wrapper" app.

Alexander

If you use Thing or jinnee as a desktop, the Show Info/Information dialogs allow you to input a MagiC memory limit for any application.

I know that Thing and Jinnee can do that, and I was trying to do exactly the same myself, i.e. to start a program so that it could not eat memory above some limit. As far as I understand Psetlimit(...) allows a program to impose memory limit upon itself or its children, so I tried something like this:

Psetlimit( 2, 100000L ); /* to impose limit upon myself and my children */
  ...
shel_write(...);         /* to start a child */
  ...
Psetlimit( 2, 0L );      /* to cancel the limit ? */

but still a naughty program which I start uses all memory (tried in Magic), so either, and much more probably, I am not doing it right, or the started program does not heed the limit.

This won't work, as programs run via shel_write() are children of the AES, not of your program.

To achieve what you want, you need to use the extended shel_write() modes which (among other things) allow you to specify a memory limit for the program being run.

Ciao

Hello,

I have been pondering on the matter of poritng the Ogg Vorbis replaying routine to 68000. I have downloaded all the sources from xiph.org, including a player which uses integers only, but I have some problems.

Mainly, the integer only routine is 64-bit only and I can't modify anything since my C knowledge is quite bad. On the other hand, I have quite some skill in 68000 assembly.

Now, a weird thought crept into my mind one night. Why not compiling the Ogg sources on a standard Atari Compiler, and then reverse engineer the executable to see what happens? I'm not talking about real-time performance here, just loading and unpacking the file into memory. But my absymal C knowledge (see above) restricts me from doing that.

Hence this post. Is anybody out there willing to assist me? All that he needs to do (which is indeed a Herculian task for me) is to modify the sources a bit so that they will do what I described above (just load/unpack file), and then send me the executable (the modified sources would be nice too), so I can reverse engineer it and code it a bit better (if possible).

Any help would be appreciated. (please note that the minimum target machine is a standard 4mb ste - it will be of course upwards compatible).

Aniplayer at http://aniplay.atari.org/ will decode (and encode) Ogg files on a 68020. Maybe you could go on from there.

From the Aniplayer package:

Ogg Vorbis 'Tremor' integer playback codec library, version 1.0.0.
http://www.xiph.org/

 Here's a shared library of libvorbis-1.0rc2. It has been compiled with Gcc 2.95.2 with -m68020-60 and works only under MiNT 1.15.3 or more and MagiC 6. TOS cannot load .SLB, but an SLB loader exist with MetaDOS:
ftp://ftp.uni-muenster.de/pub/atari/Utilities/slbld028.lzh
http://www.muenster.de/~reschke/soft_e.html

 Requirements:
  - 68020 or higher
  - MiNT 1.15.3 or MagiC 6 or MetaDOS 2.74.

You're asking for an awful lot. I hope you don't expect real-time decoding and playing without specialized hardware as a typical 68000 processor isn't enough. Even a 68030 just isn't fast enough hence the Falcon must use DSP support. But actually AFAIK there is no OGG vorbis DSP support yet in Aniplayer so mp3 is the way to go for real time playback on the Falcon. The 68060 however I suspect will not even burp at playing back an MP3/vorbis file.

If you simply just want to decode and don't care how long it takes, Kenneth's suggestion of Aniplayer is the way to go and I'm sure the vorbis stuff could be compiled for 68000.

I recently tried to play an Ogg file from the last ST Computer CD in Aniplayer, but it could not be started - the dialogbox came up OK but clicking on the play arrow did nothing at all! Any ideas? his is on a Falcon and MagiC 6.01, witth VORBIS.SLB and VORB_ENC.SLB in FPU?

Ogg works fine here on a TT, both encoding and decoding. But slow...

Geneva lets you do that easily, but since I have gotten Magic and Mint, I have 256 meg of memory, so that is not needed. I have not seen that option for Magic/Mint, but I would assume that it can be done.

I believe in the docs that comes with the program there is a section that talks about using PARCP with ports that are only one way.

MP3 and OGG are coded d⁄coded just fine on Had⁄s60.
Aniplay and a single TTP are able to encode OGG.

Humm...
You need lot of power for ogg vorbis, more than mpeg audio layer 3.
I have compiled the vorbis integer library (with Gcc 2.95), I obtain 50% of load under MagiCMac and a PPC G3 500 MHz.
I have compiled the normal vorbis library for the 68060 (with Gcc 2.95),
I obtain 80% of load under my Falcon/CT60 (68060 66 MHz).
I cannot rewrite the library for the DSP because Ogg Vorbis need lot of memory.

I don't know if you can overclock the 68000 to 500 Mhz.

Regards,

Didier.

Didier,

Using more advanced DSP's like 563xx and such would you be able to do it on those? I would imagine that those have more on chip memory available inside the DSP.

Thanks

Thanks for replying (and sorry for my late reply), but I just need an off-line unpacker, not a realtime streaming application.

All I need are sources for ogg that a) can compile to standard 68000. b) A (very small) routine to load & call the ogg "depack" routine. Could anyone direct me to such sources? (that was kind of my original request)

Thank you...

Under MagiC you'd use the application prefrences of that particular program. Under MiNT I'd imagine you'd use some form of ulimit.

Hello Group,

I longkept dream has been fulfilled yesterday. I got a Falcon! Because I am a total Atari Newbie I'm searching the web for Informantions, HowTo's, etc... But those doc's don't answer an important question:

I would like to use it for programming (have touched the 68k during my job), but don't know which language to chose. My job requiers Ada, so I want a different language;-)) As far as I know till now a typical choice would be GFA-Basic and an Assembler. Any other suggestions?

Thanks a lot

If you go for GFA-Basic, a good place to start looking for tutorials and patches is Lonny Pursells website:

I always wanted to have a look outside the mainstream, but till few years ago my parents bought my computers for me ;-))
But i kept reading all sorts of books and magazines. The ones that interested me most were the Falcon and the Acorn Archimedes / RiscPC series. I don't want to spend several hundred Euros/$ for a "toy" (I do my work on PC, and that works for me). On saturday I finally stumbled across a never used and original packed Falcon with a SM144 for 25Euro, so I couldn't resist. That's all the story...

So could you recommend me a good/useful/"widespread" software-setup for programming the beast?

Ah! for 25 euro, I would definately buy a falcon!!!
I use to own a STFM, I programmed it using GFA basic and C, not sure what C compiler I used, though, it was a free compiler...
The fact that I didn't have a colour screen and the fact that at my work (at the time) we use X windows, made me switch to linux at home. PC hardware was the best choice to run linux so, thats where my atari was left behind....
Falcons and TT's were too expensive, so I never owned one....

Using SM144 you will not ess much. You may connect your Falcon to TV Set, or VGA monitor (but this will require interface like for SM144). There you will have color modes and all fun.

The best choice is special multi-sync monitor that ia able to work with vertical frequencies starting from 15kHz (ordinary VGA can do from 31kHz up).

Assembler is a lot of fun! Have a look here:

http://www.dhs.nu/files_code.php

I always use the Turbo Assembler (very very good!) for 68K and DSPdit with QuickDSP for the DSP. Both together are a relly powerful combination.
I think the link above only contains the ST/TT-Version of TurboAss.

Here should be the Falcon-version:

ftp://ftp.inf.tu-dresden.de/software/atari/Programs/Programming

Additionally there is bugaboo, a very good debugger.

Greetings,
Matthias

If it is running Windows 95 it will read it. Anything else might, but try opening it in Explorer, because some apps will not read it directly.

I do not know what program is required if those suggestions do not work, but they have been posted in this group before, and may be posted again.

Hi all,

In my office, I was asked to do some set-up work on a Linux PC (SUSE). Part of the set-up was to get the printer working with CUPS (Common Unix Printer Service or something like that).

CUPS provides Linux with printer support for hundreds of printers so I became interested. Presumably the FreeMint developers have heard of CUPS but it was new to me.

I had a quick look on a Linux website to see what was required to install CUPS. Much of the software has all ready been ported to FreeMint but I didn't have time to check all the version numbers.

If it could be ported to FreeMint, and I realise that it would take a lot of work to do this, I doubt it would work directly with GEM but adapting a VDI to work with CUPS sounds more feasible than writing printer drivers.

Is anyone considering this as a solution to the printer driver problems ?

regards,

Peter

The PC will read it, but that is about it. If you want to run it,
I suggest either running an Atari emulator on your PC or else just go out and buy an Atari.

The discette is making for the first Atari-version (without MS-DOS-Support).

If i correctly understood, what you need is to set the DISABLED ob_state.
IMO, you don't need to change the SELECTABLE ob_flag.

BTW:

```
adr[obj].ob_flags |= SELECTABLE; /* set SELECTABLE flag */
adr[obj].ob_flags &= ~SELECTABLE; /* remove SELECTABLE flag */

much faster than calling objc_change ( ). I forgot that each object is a

What i do now....

    draw_ changed_colors_in_the_icon
    do{
        get_mouse_button_state }whlie ( mouse_button_is_not_released)

It's much better but still about 40% of the times the ICONs flicker a little.

I took a look into the source you posted here, i dont see how is done there to avoid flicker.
I will look at them longer this weekend.

Thanks for your help!

                  A Motherlode of ms-dos files
                    Drop in and sit a while!
```

The Chatnfiles bbs (www.chatnfiles.com) is mainly known for having Chat and having Files. I offer a large (160,000+) and old files download collection. My oldest files date back to around or before 1988. I have both Carousel2 collection (1988) and the ms-dos portion of the Simtel ftpsite (on cd-rom) from about 1994.

The Carousel2 includes about 17,000 files. The target operating systems include: ms-dos, windows 2.11/3.x, Mackintosh (system 6?), OS/2, Atari 400/800,

Comodore
64/128(?) and the Amiga. It also has about 5 different sub-directories with graphical files including both Gif and non-Gif formats.

The Simtel collection offers up about 10,000 ms-dos programs and files from on or before 1994. On a mailing list, it (and/or the Carousel2) were referred to as "the motherlode"....

I have a shareware collection called "Bobs Hall of Fame" that actually has Files for the Ibm System 3/A400 on it as well as more typical Ms-dos files...

I have a number of the Pier Shareware collections, Night Owl collections, Shareware Vault plus a number of singletons like Project Guttenberg, Nasa Space and Astronomy, Alan Appleton's BBS cd-rom, Best Windows games, Hot this that or the other.

You can use Google to search the local file area. Or you can simply browse the directories. The downside is there are no easy to use tools in the www server world to allow me to easily provide keyword access to the file collection. I am in the process of writing a script that will attempt to produce a "files.htm" page that includes file descriptions for each sub-directory that Google will read and produce a less garbled index of.

The website is running on a cpu/bandwidth throttle so it will not interfere with the other websites when lots of people are downloading. So it doesn't matter if 200 downloaders showup at once. They will get good service and so will the other sites.

The Chat system is running a perl script called Eileen, v2.1 which is derived from a popular chat script called Everychat. It has multiple rooms and provides about 30 actions or "emoticons."

The rest of the site is your basic personal website. I am looking at upgrading to a product called AspPortal but the files download indexing issue would remain. Drop on by.

I can't remember how GEM works that well. It might still be looping...

...still yielding n>1 is my guess.

Took me a while to figure it out, was looking in an example app for the button/drawing relationship which was wrong place. Seems pug is working more like a win32 message pump. Unless app registers an interest in an event it never gets told what's going on: things just get manipulated for it transparently. Essentially button is always in released state for the app. Doh! Anyways, once I tracked it down the code inside pug is a single line. Turns out the user's stubby fingers are the "antiflicker" code! The 'evm_button' member of 'evmp' is the button state from the evnt_multi() which lead us here...

 do graf_mkstate(mouse); while (bs & evmp->evm_button);
```

...iirc 'Mouse' is peculiar to the MWC compiler and is a 'Prect'...

Mouse   mouse   ={&mx,&my,&bs,&ks};
```

...guess it'd look like this elsewhere...

int mx,my,bs,ks;
graf_mkstate(&mx,&my,&bs,&ks);

Pseudocode:
[One or more buttons go down] oldstate = evmp->evm_button
do {
  graf_mkstate(0,0,&newstate,0);
}while ((newstate bitwise-AND oldstate) != 0)
[all the down buttons of oldstate are now up]

At which point's its free to flicker again - except it can't 'cos user has to press a button to get back here.

I have been thinking to abandon the icons way and use bitmaps with VDI.
My program also change the icon by itself without wait for the click from the user...in this situation also flickers 40 or 30 % of the times, so i think is something else than the evnt_button loop.

Thanks!!!

Hello,

For people insterested, you can grab it at:
http://bbs.dhs.nu/ct60/index.php?request=1012

Plus, there is an driver that provides XBIOS extension for Milan (apparently only for S3 Trio 64) and gives complete control to setup video modes for the video card.

Spam from VoteNader.org? (Or naderexplore04.org)

You may have received spam email recently that appears to come from our campaign, or be about our campaign -- perhaps the "From" and or "Reply-to" addresses look like they are coming from VoteNader.org. Or perhaps you have received a message that appears to come from an individual (if the address is real, the real owner probably did not send this email either) with suppressed recipients. Or maybe you received an email that appeared to come from yourself promoting our site.

These messages are NOT from Nader for President 2004, and these email tactics are NOT condoned by our campaign in any way.

UPDATE: Some of the latest forged emails have been made to appear to be coming from naderexplore04.org. Again, we are not responsible for this unfortunate abuse of email, and there is little in the technical sense that we can do to prevent this as it has nothing to do with our actual infrastructure. We are collecting information.

NOTE: The emails with malicious code (viruses, worms, etc.) often have attachments. Our campaign will NEVER send attachments in our announcement emails to you. Please be sure that you have anti-virus software and have the latest updates available for your anti-virus software.

Our hosting service has alerted us to say that Nader for President 2004 appears to be the target of what is called a "Joe Job." Such an event is where a spammer forges email to make it appear to have come from some other domain (such as ours -- or yourself). This is hard to prevent on our end and part of the insecure nature of the email protocol in general.

Members of our actual email list must request to receive email from us (either through Ralph's signup sheets or subscribing during our exploratory phase, or now on our campaign site). When one signs up for email they must reply to a confirmation message before they receive our list announcements.

Our public announcement emails come from "campaign@votenader.org," contain a "Paid for by Nader for President 2004" statement at the bottom, and have "updates@lists.votenader.org" in the "To:" header. Unfortunately, some of these indicators can be forged as well.

Most of the Spam that we have received complaints about appear to be forged from email addresses not associated with votenader.org (often forged to appear to be coming from government email addresses), and have our website code embedded in the body of the email with hidden tags that contain random words that work to subvert anti-spam software.

If you are on our lists, you can ALWAYS unsubscribe at ANY time by following the instructions included at the end of our announcements. You can also use our unsubscribe page using the email address you signed up with.

If you are receiving this SPAM, we extend our apologies.

We will pursue the spammers to the full extent of the law.

give biological and chemical weapons to children they don?t think twice. Sad but true.

Cops tried various things, by the way Jews had their brothers inside ASIO too, who were telling Mahmud Kurchu exactly what was going on, later they tried to make me stay with an Irani Jewish family under the witness protection program, it was sister Maryam who was angry about it and stopped all these "dumb" moves by police, I really thank her for that. I +vely identified all these people they brought it claiming these guys were my parents, I told them I am Muslim though I did not remember much.

As everytime I woke up I wanted to go back to school, as I couldn?t remove those hand cuffs in dream, I would start crying and so, during the mean while Mahmud Kurchu made changed the story about those two Jewish terrorists, they told the world these guys died in car accident. So these cops started giving me more injections to erase my memory as well, as I wasn?t forgetting Jews who raped my body and kidnapped me, they gave me these injections thrice. They told me all these things happened to me because I was hit by car, I was involved in car accident etc.

Acutally there were times when I had to do investigation for that cop, like he believed Mahmud Kurchu?s statement that Dog bit his nose off, I told him what kind of dog would bite a nose and not the feet or so. And even if that Arfff :).

So after a few days they pealed my skin from my legs and covered the marks of cuts around my body. Today I have no sign of any operation on my body. Then they moved me back to the my garage room, one day the CIA guy came in. I regonised h

Hi,

Does anyone know where I can obtain a working copy of the TDI Development version? I know the Megamax is available, and intend to use it, but I would like to have TDI also, as it contained some items that I'd like to have available.

TIA,

Terry

TRY THIS!! IT WORKS!! MONEY $$$ NOW!I COULD NOT BELIEVE IT!! I ACTUALLY RECEIVED MONEY! Here are the 3 easy steps to success: STEP ONE: Get 6 separate piece of paper and write your name and address plus the following on each piece of paper "PLEASE PUT ME ON YOUR MAILING LIST." Now get 12 US$ and place TWO inside EACH of the 6 pieces of paper so the $2.00 will not be seen through the envelope (to prevent thievery). Next, place one paper in each of the envelopes and seal them. You would now have 6 sealed envelopes, each with a piece of paper stating the above phrase, your name and address, and $2.00. What you are doing is creating a service and you are paying for it! Like most of us I was skeptical and a little worried about the legal aspects of it all. So I checked it out with the U.S. Post Office 1-800-725-2161 and they confirmed that it was indeed legal. Mail the 6 envelopes to the following adresses: 1. MANUEL TINAJERO/542 HERNANDEZ/ LAREDO/TEXAS/ 78046/ U.S.A 2. R.C FAULK/ 7509 NE VAN MALL DR. C-13/ VANCOUVER/ WASHINGTON/ 98662/ U.S.A 3. ZACK LONGLEY/7686 CALLAGHAN RD. APPT 3304/SAN ANTONIO/ TEXAS/78229/U.S.A. 4. MAURICIO LIMA/ 4221 AGUSTIN MUNOZ MONTEVIDEO/11900/URUGUAY 5. E. SIMON/ 1849 SEDGWICK AVE/ BRONX/ NY/10453/ U.S.A 6. B. CURRY/ 14923 JERPOINT/ ABBY DR./ CHARLOTTE/ NORTH CAROLINA/28273 STEP TWO: Now take the #1 name off the list that you see above, move the other names up 6 becomes 5, 5 becomes 4, etc., and Add YOUR NAME as number 6 on the list. STEP THREE: Change anything you need to, but try to keep this article as close to the original as possible. Now, post this amended article to at least 100 newsgroups. (There are close to 450,000 groups on Yahoo Groups alone). All you need is 100, but remember, the more you post, the more money YOU make! You won't get very much unless you post like crazy! This is perfectly legal! If you have any doubts, refer to Title 18 Sec. 1302 & 1341 of the Internatational Postal Lottery Act. Keep a copy of these steps for yourself and, whenever you need money, you can use it again, and again. PLEASE REMEMBER that this program remains successful because of the honesty and integrity of the participants and by their carefully adhering to the directions. Look at it this way. If you are of integrity, the program will continue and the money that so many others have received will come your way. NOTE: You may want to retain every name and address sent to you, either on a computer or hard copy and keeps the notes people send you. This VERIFIES that you are truly providing a service. (Also, it might be a good idea to wrap the $1 dollar bills in dark paper to reduce the risk of mail theft.) So, as each post is downloaded and directions carefully followed, six members will be reimbursed for their participation as a List Developer with two dollars each. Your name will move up the list geometrically so that when your name reaches the #1 position you will be receiving tens of thousands of dollars in CASH!!! What an opportunity for only $12.00 ($2.00 for each of the six listed above) Send it now, add your name to the list and your`re in business! NOTE: Send only US dollars in this program as the US dollar always has a stable exchange rate and is easily available to peoples outside the U.S. If you live outside the U.S. then please exchange local currency int 12 US$. Exchanging money int $ is cheap, easy and can be done at most banks, post offices, embassies even super markets. It will all be worth it when you start receiving thousands of dollars in the mail. Also letters to places other than your own country, it is a good idea to send them airmail not by land, there is not a lot of difference in price for this. POSTING TO NEWSGROUPS* STEP ONE: You do not need to type this entire letter to do your own posting. Simply put your cursor at the beginning of this letter, drag your cursor to the bottom of this document, and select `copy` from the edit menu. Open a blank `notepad fill

Old timers are still alive!

Back in 1988 the Atari ST and the Commodore Amiga were the most advanced home-computers available. IBM-PCs and clones were used mainly in companies for business applications and the Apple Macintosh was much too expensive for the average home user.

Fran?ois Lionet (one of the founders of Clickteam) produced with Constantin Sotiropoulos one of the first game programming language ever written: STOS Basic - published by Europress Software Ltd. It proved to be an immediate success: STOS allowed anyone, regardless of their programming experience, to have their first sprite moving on the screen with a few instructions.

STOS filled a big gap in the market. Home users wanted to be able to release their creativity and produce their own games without learning difficult languages like C or machine code.

http://clickteam.com/English/amos.php

Today, Clickteam is proud to offer the source code of all STOS and AMOS products as a contribution to the remaining Atari and Amiga community. Clickteam is also willing to answer questions and queries about these products through our discussion forums.

This reminds me -- for the past few years (on and off) I have been working a suite of portable tools for working with AMOS and its formats. In particular, amos_print can convert any AMOS source code to ASCII text, including code you thought you had permanently locked. So you can get back your code, even if you can't get AMOS running on an emulator and find some obscure extension that you're missing.

http://www.kyz.uklinux.net/downloads/AMOSutils.tar.gz

Interested people can also look at http://www.kyz.uklinux.net/formats/amos_file_formats.html

Is there anyone who would like to help out on this? For example, to provide some of the extensions that are missing, versions of existing extensions that are missing, or to port this thing to handle STOS code?

Regards
Stuart

Hello there,

Can somebody give me some advice on the following matter.

I have an atari program which runs on a Atari TT.

I would like to run it on a windows and/or disassemble it.
I have found many rom and emulator programs for a ST but not for a TT, do they exist ?

I have also a binary created file (from Atari TT) and the prg file.
Is it possible to disassemble one of the two (I would like to know the structure of the binary file)

Thanks in advance,
Johan

I'm not sure if this is what you're looking for but...

A while ago, I was looking around, just seeing what other emulators were there for the ST, having gotten my ST back..
I found, I believe, a GNU source of of of the emulators that was basically supposed to multitask GEM on a 68k machine. A friend of mine looked over the code, as I don't program, and said it would need a little more than 8MHz to work properly and suggested a TT would run it properly.

I want to say it was either WinSTon, but I'm not sure and will investigate.
Is this something you could use to maybe write a TT emulator? I think it was written in C++.

Just a thought from a sleep deprived lonesome male, looking for friends brit in NY <hey, it's free advertising space!>

> I have found many rom and emulator programs for a ST but not for a TT, do
> they exist ?

You only need a 68K disasembler, ST or TT emulation is irrelevant. I you want to run it, then try Aranym (search google).

> I have also a binary created file (from Atari TT) and the prg file.
> Is it possible to disassemble one of the two (I would like to know the > structure of the binary file)

You dont disasemble binary files. If you don't know this, you are going to struggle with some of the concepts needed. I recommend reading a good 68000 book first.

Coda.

MAKE MONEY!!!

MAKE THOUSANDS!!!

I found this on a bulletin board and decided to try it: I don't care about the useless pre-fabricated crap this message usually says. All I say is, it works. Continue pre-fab crap.

WELL GUESS WHAT!!!

Within seven days, I started getting money in the mail!! I was shocked!! I figured it would end soon, but the money just kept coming in. In my first week, I made about $25.00. By the end of the second week I had made a total of more than $1000.00!!

Let me tell you how this works and most important, why it works..... also make sure you print this out NOW, so you can get the information off of it, as you will need it. I promise you that if you follow the directions exactly that you will start making more money than you thought possible by doing something so easy!!

Suggestion: Read this entire message carefully!! (Print it out or download it)

Follow the simple directions and watch the money come in!! It's easy. It's legal. And, your investment is only $6.00 (Plus postage) !!!

You can use any currancy as people can always change it..

IMPORTANT:

This is not a rip-off, it is decent; it's legal; and it is virtually no risk - it really works!! If all the following instructions are adhered to, you will receive extraordinary dividends.

PLEASE NOTE:

Please follow the directions EXACTLY, and $50,000 or more can be yours in 20 to 60 days. This program remains successful because of the honesty and integrity of the participants. Please continue its success by carefully adhering to the instructions. You will now become apart of the Mail Order business.

You are in the business of developing Mailing Lists. Many large corporations are happy to pay big bucks for quality lists. However, the money made from the mailing lists is secondary to income which is made from people like you and me asking to be included in that list. Here are the four easy steps to success.

STEP ONE:

Get six separate pieces of paper and write the following on each piece of paper "PLEASE PUT ME ON YOUR MAILING LIST."
Now get 6 U.S. $1.00 bills and place ONE inside of EACH of the six pieces of paper so the bill will not be seen through the envelope (to prevent thievery). Next, place one paper in each of the six envelopes and seal them. You now should have six sealed envelopes, each with a piece of paper stating the above phrase, your name and address, and a $1.00 bill. What you are doing is creating a service.

THIS IS ABSOLUTELY LEGAL!!!!!

You are requesting a legitimate service and you are paying for it!! Like most of us I was a little skeptical and little worried about the legal aspects of it all. So I checked it out with the U.S. Post Office (1-800-238-5355) and they confirmed that it is indeed legal!!

Mail the six envelopes to the following addresses:

Matthew Dutton
46 Hayworth St
Point Vernon, Hervey Bay
QLD, 4390
Australia

R. Visser
P.O. Box 274
Nobby Beach
QLD, 4218
Australia

S. Phillips
77 Manly Drive
Robina, QLD 4226
Australia

Chris Pittman
7651 Abigail Glen Dr.
Charlotte, NC 28212
USA

Mike Vango
29 Pebblewood Ave
Scarborough, ON M1V-2A7
Canada

C. Wehler
137 Sara Rd
St. Marys, PA 15857
USA

STEP TWO:Now take the #1 name off the list that you see above, move the other names up (six becomes 5, 5 becomes 4, and etc.) and add YOUR NAME as number 6 on the list.

STEP THREE:
Change anything you need to but try to keep this article as close to original as possible. Now post your amended article to at least 200 news groups. : (I think there are close to 24,000 groups) All you need is 200, but remember, the more you post, the more money you make!! This is perfectly legal!! If you have any doubts, refer to Title 18 Sec. 1302 & 1341 of the Postal Lottery laws. Keep a copy of these steps for yourself and whenever you need money, you can use it again, and again. PLEASE REMEMBER that this program remains successful because of the honesty and integrity of the participants and by their carefully adhering to directions. Look at it this way. If you were of integrity, the program will continue and the money that so many others have received will come your way.

NOTE: You may want to retain every name and address sent to you,> either on a computer or hard copy and keep the notes people send you.
This VERIFIES that you are truly providing a service. (Also, it might be a good idea to wrap the $1 bill in dark paper to reduce the risk of mail theft). So, as each post is downloaded and the directions carefully followed, all members will be reimbursed for their participation as a List Developer with one dollar each. Your name will move up the list geometrically so that when your name reaches the #1 position you will be receiving thousands of dollars in CASH!!! What an opportunity for only $6.00 ($1.00 for each of the first six people listed above) Send it now, add your own name to the list and you're in business!!!

DIRECTIONS FOR HOW TO POST TO NEWS GROUPS!!!**

STEP ONE: You do not need to re-type this entire letter to do your own posting. Simply put your cursor at the beginning of this letter and drag your cursor to the bottom of this document, and select 'copy' from the edit menu. This will copy the entire letter into the computer's memory.

STEP TWO:
Open a blank 'notepad' file and place your cursor at the top of the blank page. From the 'edit' menu select 'paste'. This will paste a copy of the letter into the notepad so that you will add your name to the list.

STEP THREE:
Save your new notepad file as a text file. If you want to do your posting in different settings, you'll always have this file to go back to.

STEP FOUR:
You can use a program like "postXpert" to post to all the newsgroups at once. You can find this program at <<http://www.download.com>>.

Use Netscape or Internet Explorer and try searching for various new groups (on- line forums, message boards, chat sites, discussions.)

STEP FIVE:
Visit message boards and post this article as a new message by highlighting the text of this letter and selecting paste from the edit menu. Fill in the subject, this will be the header that everyone sees as they scroll through the list of postings in a particular group, click the post message button. You're done.

Congratulations!!!!!!

THAT'S IT!! All you have to do, and It Really works!!!

BEST WISHES ...

ouYj\

I am not very familliar with non-TOS filesystems possible with Mint or Magic, so:

- Is there any filesistem used in which BOTH the DOS-like file attributes (system, hidden, archive...) AND unix-like access-rights (read, write, exec for owner, group, world) are relevant on the same item (file or folder)?

(of course, 'readonly' attribute can be related to read/write access rights and one can be 'faked' from another, but what about the complete set?).

Not on ext2 and minix (these filesystems only support the unix attributes).

Thanx; What about those enhancements of the FAT system (VFAT, etc.)?
Do they know of users and their rights?

No, VFAT is only a long name extension. But anyway, you should use the operating system calls to get uid/gid and all the unix attributes and you should not rely on a specific filesystem implementation or feature set.
Under FreeMiNT you can set a specific uid/gid as default for a (V)FAT partition for example. It's the task of the operating system to map these optimally.

Frank

Hello.
For few weeks I am an Atari 1040 ST owner and want to try develop programs for this machine.
My preferred languages are Pascal and Modula-2 (for many reasons)...
So I am searching for a free pascal compiler and it's docs for Atari ST.

Thank You very much

Hi, Norik!

Search the web for "Megamax Modula 2". This Modula 2 programming environment has been made available for free by its author, Thomas Tempelmann.

It might be worth a test...

Small Atari hard discs are not expensive at all - and they make the programmers life a lot more comfortable. When I bought my Megafile 30 years ago I soon realised that I could not imagine how I could do without before. Compilation seemed to finish immediately and switching between applications (single TOS at that time) had an incredible speedup as well.

Prospero Pascal came on one or two floppies - iirc it would run off one floppy (with possibly a ramdisk though that may have been Prospero C).

Sorry, it's just the book.
I can't provide any more info because I never used the machine.
I don't even have time to OCR any more of it.

Hello,

windom 1.21.3 has just been released. This is a bug fix release.

More about windom here:
http://windom.sf.net

what's new:
- fix: 3D buttons of the font selector were smaller each time the font selector is invoked (bug fixed in the way OBJECTs are transformed to USERDEF).
- fix: restoring of the mouse form (if AES4_XGMOUSE flag is set)
- fix: area returned by WF_FIRSTXYWH is now intersected with the screen area (needed for some AES that returns area partially out of the screen when the window is partially out of the screen)
- fix: double call of functions binded to menu
- fix: redraw of menu in window under xaaes
- fix: drawing of children in ObjcDraw() with OC_OBJC mode

Direct link to the download page:

best regards,
Arnaud.

Hello,

Taking again the programming of Icon Extract after several tests for Rodolphe on the CT60, I will like to know if one among you know some routines of transfer of pallet of 256 colors towards another 256 colors.
I am explained: by reading the pallets of the Windows icons to format

ICO, CUR, and ANI, the pallet 256 colors is always different from that of Falcon. It thus should be adapted to just, my current routines try to find color RVB nearest and that functions well. I will want to optimize the speed of the treatment and I am certain that there is an algorithm already existing faster than mine. I search on Internet, but I anything out of C would you have do not find sought some tracks?

In the same way, I use my routines to transfer from the icons 24 and 32 bits to 256 colors. The more there are colors, the more the treatment is long to find value RVB corresponding. Also, if you have tracks (without using options of dithering), you would help me well. Thank you for your assistance.

I'm sure CUPS can fully be controlled by command line tools, but if there are GUIs for this, it surely was nice to re-do them for GEM. And yes, that was probably much simpler than writing a huge set of printer drivers...

PS> Is anyone considering this as a solution to the printer driver

I think it was a good approach!

Well then, you need to find someone who has an Atari who can read it, then they could transfer it to a disk that is readable by your PC. I could do it, if you want to send it to me. I could just email you the contents of the disk in a zipped file.

Blitter for IDE transfers? How? Where? When? Btw, do not use blitter on Falcon becouse it causes a lot of problems on accelerated ones.

Shdriver.sys does a check for the existence/status of a blitter and depending on the result of this check prints either "Doing programmed I/O for ide" or "Using blitter for ide access", but I've never heard read anything that would explain why or how.

Now I can't find the link for the CUPS dependancies (typical isn't it). I was hoping to be able to list what has all ready been ported to Mint and the version number differences.

These links provide some basic information about CUPS:

http://www.cups.org/
http://www.cups.org/documentation.php

http://www.freshports.org/print/cups/

CUPS replaces the normal lpr printer commands so I presume VDI would have to mimic the calls to CUPS made by unix apps.

Peter

Perhaps does it use the blitter to transfer from a buffer to memory, though I don't think it'd much help on a Falcon...

debian-aptitude shows these dependencies for the cupsys package (1.1.19final-1):

libc6 >=2.3.1-1
libcupsimage2 >=1.1.19final-1 libcupsys2 >=1.1.19final-1 libgcc1 >=1:3.3-0pre9

libgnutls5 >=0.8.0-1 libpam0g >=0.76
libpaper libslp1
libstdc++5 >=1:3.3-0pre9 zlib1g >=1:1.1.4
gs-esp adduser >=3.12
debconf >=1.2.9

PS> CUPS replaces the normal lpr printer commands so I presume

I'm not sure where the drivers themselves are located, but I assume that it was sufficient to port the right library and use its functionality from within a TOS app or from within the GEMDOS. So one does not have to bother with the whole daemon- networking- and administrative stuff that comes with CUPS.

It seems to me that's exactly what CUPS _is_. It's basically a really fancy spooler, not a driver or a collection thereof. Most *nix apps will create Postscript, which is directed by CUPS to the correct location, whether directly to a Postscript printer or first through a filter/driver like Ghostscript and then to a non-Postscript printer.

If you're looking for drivers, it seems to me a project like Gimp-Print is a better place to start. See http://gimp-print.sourceforge.net/.

Maybe I misunderstood the stuff I was reading but the article was boasting abou how many printers were supported by CUPS and how it replaces lpr. That is why I got the impression it included drivers.

Earlier today I gleaned the info below from the FreeBSD website and added my own comments.

I'm sorry if I accidentally mislead anyone by thinking CUPS is a printer driver system. However, whatever Linux and BSD use is probably a suitable way of getting support for a large number of modern printers on the TOS platform.

Peter

Obviously the 3 CUPS components have not been ported, that leaves:

7 items ported with 2 at the correct version (autoconf and m4), none of the others are very far behind the versions required by CUPS. I don't know how important the versions are.

I think the 3 graphics components (jpeg, png and tiff) as well as XFree-86 have been ported but I am not sure because of the slightly different names.

The 4 remaining (gmake, imake, fontconfig and pkgconfig) don't seem to have been ported.

If all of these items were ported then I belive that CUPS could provide printer support to X-window applications running in the X emulator under FreeMint.

This is where my idea gets a bit vague. To be any use to GEM applications the VDI would need to interface to CUPS and use the GEM font files.

Also, performance may not be great but let's not worry about that just yet.

With a USB port and driver software this may mean an end to the problem of having to use old printer drivers with even older printers.

It might be possible, that there is something of use within SDL (http:/ www.libsdl.org) or one of its support libraries. One of the extra modules adds support for extra file formats.

This is a good point as well...

Back to CUPS: Peters list makes me think that mainly cups-lpr and cups-pstoraster packages will be needed for printing. That is not that much. But still there has to be someone to do the port...

CUPS is only a printer framework that can be easily configured and maintained through http.

Printer drivers are not part of CUPS itself (altough you can buy drivers).
Free drivers are mainly available through ghostscript and the gimp-driver project. More informations are available on the linux printer driver project site.

Sometime ago I compiled CUPS for FreeMiNT and got it working (the daemon and the driver backends). It require lot of RAM, especially if you want to print. Speed depend on the postscript rasterizer and is on an original ATARI very slow (ghostscript it's not the fastest program).

imake is part of XFree86, gmake is already available (the package is called make). expat, fontconfig, freetype2, XFree-86-devel are not strictly neccessary. Btw. libs like png, tiff can be easily upgraded.

I did this exact same task using linux just a few days ago. I dual boot into redhat, but you shouldn't have to do that to use linux.

You can get various very small distributions of liunux (i.e. 3-4 diskettes only) that install and run "on top of" DOS/Windows using the existing dos file system. Unzip the linux distro into a directory, run linux-start.bat (or whatever it's called), and it boots into linux using your dos/windows file system. Now mount the atari diskette and copy the contents into a directory. Now reboot and you're back to dos/windows, and the atari files will be there on your hard disk where you put them.

If you use dos to format a diskette with the right density then that can be written to by the atari and the files can be read later from dos without any trouble. (If you buy high density disks then you might have to tape over the high density hole before dos will format at a low density.)

The linux installed as mentioned above can be useful for other tasks or your own interest, and takes very little space.

I have very successfully used mini-linux from within dos for other tasks in the past. That distro is very old now, but there are also other newer distros that work the same way (i.e. they are small and require no changes to your dos/window system to install.)

I knew it would be slow on standard Atari's but printing to high res printers is slow on them anyway and they still have the option of using NVDI or other GDOS replacements. I don't think anyone with an ST will be printing an A4 image at 1400dpi ;-)

It would be great to have the option for people with faster machines and I would love to be able to get the best out of my Canon when higher quality output is needed. The NVDI drivers only work with 360dpi :-(

What do you think of the idea of linking the printer driver to the VDI ? Do Gimp-print and Ghostscript just print the postscript output from Unix apps ?

To use some of the cheaper printers there is still the problem of USB but that's another thread.

Redards,

Peter

NVDI can produce an IMG file and I think it could produce Postscript if the correct printer driver is installed but I don't know if it can send this to a file.

I know it uses .SYS files for each of the drivers e.g. IMG.SYS
but there isn't a TIFF.SYS

A TIFF file would be huge though. I have a problem with printing some documents because NVDI creates temporary files on my boot partition which is only 64Mb. If I ever get my second disk working reliably it will be 400Mb but other people will have similar problems. I haven't worked out how to get NVDI to use another partition (is it the SPOOLPATH ?)

I wonder if GIMP does something similar, converting PS to TIFF to send to non-postscript printers ?

Peter

Hi!

GIMP can quietly generate PS and ghostscript will convert it to whatever if required (IIRC this is the way it works in Linux/Unix).

BTW: I already had an idea to create VDI -> PS driver for fVDI. It would be something like the ARAnyM screen driver, but the output would be postscript.

best regards

STan

I don't know about any NVDI/VDI related printer driver that create postscript.

Btw. harddisc space, under cups the rasterizer for non postscript printers (like ghostscript) will also completly buffer the rasterized printer data on harddisc (for a decent resolution this are lot of megabytes).

No, PS can be directly used (but in case of GIMP the PS only contain the graphic data which is just a plain bitmap)

I thought so but it does show that it is feasible. It's a pity 2b aren't contactable.

Are none of the LaserJet driver PS ?

I am not clear anymore exactly what GIMP/CUPS/Ghostscript are doing.
Originally I thought GIMP was the driver software.

Hello,

I would like to check if the docs I have about MVDI support (special XBIOS functions for Milan VDI) are right. To this end, I need the drivers themselves. These ones, when installed, add a cookie _VDI. If you have a Milan, and these drivers, could you send it to me ? Thanks.

I'm sure that NVDI send rasterized data and no postscript.

> I am not clear anymore exactly what GIMP/CUPS/Ghostscript are doing.

This is a complex framework. CUPS is the manager: wait/enqueue/priorize print jobs, invoke the rasterizer if neccessary and send it to the printer (via various protocols, parallel port is only one method).

The GIMP drivers don't print directly to the printer, they only rasterize the print job.

I have found that one of the biggest bottlenecks on the Milan is caused by the lack of DMA when using IDE drives. Throughput is around 2000KBtye per second.

The SCSI driver uses DMA and can go up to 4.5Mb/s. It could be higher but is limited to asynchronous transfers.
The only SCSI I have is an EZ Flyer so can't really confirm the preformance.

Is anybody in a position to create an IDE driver, like the SCSI driver, that would use DMA ? It's not an easy task I imagine but it would make a huge improvement in performance for disk intensive activities like playing mpg's and avi's with Aniplayer.

Peter

I'm proud to announce cc65 version 2.9.3. cc65 is a complete cross development package for 65(C)02 systems, including a powerful macro assembler, a C compiler, linker, librarian and several other tools.

cc65 has C and runtime library support for many of the old 6502 machines, including

- The Commodore VIC20 (contributed by Steve Schmidtke <steve_schmidtke@hotmail.com>).

- The Commodore C64 and C128.

- The Commodore C16, C116 and Plus/4.

- The CBM 510 (aka P500), a quite rare Commodore machine (programs run in bank 0).

- The CBM 600/700 family (programs run in bank 1).

- Newer PET machines (not 2001)

- The Apple][(library support by Kevin Ruland <kevin@rodin.wustl.edu>)

- The Atari 8 bit machines (thanks to the Atari team: Christian Groessler <cpg@aladdin.de>, Mark Keates <markk@dendrite.co.uk>, Freddy Offenga <taf_offenga@yahoo.com> and David Lloyd, <dmlloyd@atari-central.com>).

- GEOS for the C64 and C128 (by Maciej Witkowiak <ytm@elysium.pl>)

- The Oric Atmos (this one is BETA!).

The libraries are fairly portable, so creating a version for other 6502s shouldn't be too much work.

This is a maintenance release that contains bug fixes for version 2.9.2 (see http://www.cc65.org/bugs.php for a list). In addition, the current development versions of the ca65html and da65 applications (an assembler source to HTML converter and a disassembler) have been backported. Apart from these two exceptions, there are no new features in the release!

Available packages:

As usual I will provide the complete sources and several binary packages, including RPMs for RedHat Linux. Linux is the primary development platform, so the sources do compile out of the box on Linux machines.

Please note that there are separate RPMs for the compiler proper and the target specific libraries. To develop for one of the predefined target systems you need the compiler RPM package and one of the target machine packages.

Binaries for DOS and and Windows will follow or may already be available at the time you read this. OS/2 packages will again be available, but since there are almost no downloads for OS/2, so the host platform may get dropped in the near future (again). As with the RPM packages, you need the package for the development system (Windows, etc.) and one or more of the target machine packages.

Download:

For more information and a download link, please visit the cc65 web page at http://www.cc65.org/

Mailing list:

There is a mailing list for discussing cc65 related issues (programming, suggestions, bugs, ...). See

http://www.cc65.org/#List

for information on how to subscribe to this list.

Thanks to all who sent feedback and suggestions, and of course to anyone who helped developing cc65!

Yesterday I wandered over to Sourcforge looking for some software info.

On the front page there was an item about the Hotway Daemon.
It provides access to html mailboxes like Hotmail from a normal pop3 mail program.

I wonder if this would work under Mint ?

One day I really must get the Freemint development stuff installed, when I get the big hard-disk working that is.

Peter

Just took a quick look. Not actually downloaded or tried it etc.

Theoretically it could, it being a daemon - shouldn't have too much in the way of runtime requirements, except maybe memory.

This is the best approach. You never can tell until you start compiling something. There are two dependancies mentioned on the web page - libghttp and libxml2. Probably be the dependancies for that pair which will be the deciding factor.

Hi All

I am hoping to get true ethernet networking on my Falcon and my TT. I am having a hard time finding a 'step by step' guide to implementing this using the built-in TOS, and harder time finding out how with alternate OS's that I can't seem to get much data on (MultiTOS, MiNT, MagiC).

I did find a couple of VERY simple ethernet interfaces that seem ideal to the task (they are so simple that the Atari 8-bit forums are using them with the 8-bit cartride port!) The links are:
http://www.embeddedether.net (about $50.00US)
http://www.embeddedethernet.com (about $70.00US)

Is there anyone in the 16/32 bit community that is familiar with these and/or has implemented them?

Is there any site that has a 'step by step' guide to getting an ethernet connection up? How about for file and printer sharing (Windows SMB, NFS, LPR) and/or internet access for downloads (ftp, ssh)?

Has anyone used the 'LAN' port on the Falcon or TT to get netowking up with Linux (or other OS)?

Is there a more appropriate forum for these questions?

I have spent quite some time searching the internet, have I missed some usefull sites (probably...)?

I really want to get my Atari's talking to my Linux and Winblows systems, I have a Linux RAID 5 server with DAT backup and that is where I want to store most of my working files and software backups.

The best solution atm. seems to be EtherneC device, see:
http://hardware.atari.org. It contains drivers for STiNG, MiNTNet and MagiCNet

For MintNet setup is similar to Linux (Unix in general) setup. For MagiCNet it is Unix-like too IIRC, for STiNG it is diffrent (there are guides in the STiNG package)

NFS and SMB filesharing is possible under MiNTNet, I do not know about pritersharing, but should be possible too. Internet acces is not a problem (all standard apps are ported, and there are native ones).

I do not know about such solution.

I'm not familiar with the interfaces to which you link, but there is a project that provides Ethernet via the ST/TT's cartridge port or the ACSI port:

http://home.arcor.de/thomas.redelberger/prj/atari/etherne/index.htm
http://hardware.atari.org/ether/index.htm

There's lots of software for doing many of these things, but I've not yet dug into them much, so I can't provide specific pointers.

AFAIK, those ports are useless as anything but high-speed serial ports; to the best of my knowledge, nobody's written any software to let them function as network ports.

MintNet is going to be your most flexable as far as the networking goes.
I also understand there is a version of MagiCNet that is very close to MintNet...in that it can use alot of drivers and such.

For MintNet...you get the standard Unix things.
NFS for mounting hard drive partitions (across other machines that support NFS) http servers like apache.
telent servers ftp servers etc....

Clientwise for MintNet....you get the unix standards like lynx, pine, etc...
Some Xwin 11 clients can also run under MintNet.
With a socket called GlueStik you can also run most, if not all of the STik/STing clients/servers with MintNet.

STing is also quite good, tho' you'll have to rely on ftp for cross platform file sharing. Between the two Atari Boxes however, there is a drive sharing utility for STing where one can mount each machine's drive partitions to the other's desk top. I forget what it's called (BNet I think?), but I do know it's out there.

On the server end for STing....
There is a basic http server.
A Basic FTP server.
And a utility for mounting TOS/GEM hard drive partitions across the LAN.
AFAIK there isn't any standard file sharing protocol for STing such as NFS.

I do belive that with the STing archive, there is information on how to network TOS/GEM machines using MIDI, Serial, LAN, and even the Printer ports. A TCP/IP link between the machines in essence. As for clients that work via the TCP/IP ring...there is the BNet thing I was talking about, and your usual STing clients and servers like ftp and http.

Unless you go with an ethernet solution, the easiest way to connect two Ataris, is using the MIDI ports. The fastest way is to build a special printer cable that connects the two via parallel ports. One can also use a null modem cable.
It may even be possible to turn the so called apple talk (lan port) into a null modem type connection?

Still it might be useful for some people but other things probably have

The LAN port is identical to and is wired to Modem 2. The only practical use of this port is for connecting old Macintosh modems (you don't need an adapter) or to avoid purchasing a switch box when you have two serial devices (of course, only one can be on at any one time).

Hello,

Check out the MyAtari online magazine site. In the October issue there is an article I wrote called Broadband ST. I talk about using the cartridge port of the ST to get access to the EtherNet.

This would also apply to the Falcon and the TT. I am using the EtherNEC hardware device...

I am also looking to do this. I need a Ethernet adaptor though. I did some reading on getting a Ethernet-SCSI adaptor. There are some drivers that are avail too:

http://www.anodynesoftware.com/ethernet/main.htm

I was wondering if anyone else has done this and where can we get compatible adaptors?

Yes...I got my Dynalink adaptor from Roger himself at Anodyne, as he had a few in stock.
I've used it with my Falcon CT2B. It's not perfect, but yes, it does work, albeit you're limited to STing and possibly STik...unless someone has gotten around to doing mintnet drivers for the thing since I last hunted. I found this solution to be quite good and reliable for running clients. When running server software it gets a little iffy. I'm not sure if the server problems I had are specific to the Falcon with a CT2B...it just might work fine on other machines with a good SCSI host like the Link 96/97/ICD2, etc.

I also got an EtherNEC kit that plugs into the ROM/Cartridge port, and have used it successfully with both my Falcon and my MegaST. It has alot of drivers avilable for it for the various machines, OSes, and TCP/IP stacks out there. There is also a product similar to the EtherNEC, EtherNEA, but it plugs into the ASCI port instead of the ROM port.
http://home.arcor.de/thomas.redelberger/prj/atari/etherne/index.htm

There is also a kit someone did a while back that uses one of the parallel port adapators, lots of wires to various ports, and a hudge brick of an adapator. It's a pretty messy solution however.

Brian,

I hope you aren't talking about my attempt at creating a parallel port adapter for the genius lan series. That was a prototype and a pathetic one at that. The actual genius adapter by Elmar Hilgarte was a nifty solution though seemingly a tiny bit more problematic than the IMHO optimal ethernec solution. The ethernec worked without issue on my CT60.

That IMHO is the truest test ;-)

Well cool I will get one then if I can find one. There is one on eBay but is missing the AC adaptor! I have a TT030, Falcon030 and 4160STe. But I think I will just use this on my TT

A bit down on my list has been networking my Falcons with my PC after I finish recasing my Falcon in a Wizztronics case and installing my CT60 on top of my Nemesis Falcon. (My other currently running Falcon is a CT2B.) If I understand things correctly, the SCSI option with drivers from Anodyne will be limited to sting, which I used successfully with dial up. It would be a bit cheaper, depending on how much I'd get a SCSIlink for. That had been my first choice, since I didn't know how accessable my rom port was going to be after recasing. Not an issue now with my Wizztronics case, since I have the rom port extender and a cartmaster lite, allowing 2 carts. Now, I have 2 dongles, Steinburg and Soundpool, but I won't mind shutting down and rebooting when I want to switch. Now I'm curious if there is any performance difference between the rom port and scsi options? I've not yet gotten into mint, so that may be a consideration later. I've used MagiC for years. Anyone got and wisdom regarding general speed between the two? (Web browsing, file transfers, ect.?)

Please see my website on connecting to the web using ICS. This gives some ideas of configuring the SCSI-LInk adapter.

[Post crois& FCSA,CSAP -> Transf&r& & CSAP]

Bonjour,

En convertissant un source assembleur 680xx pour Gcc
(Tetrax), j'ai remarqu& qu'il y avait 9 instructions Blo et 8 instructions Bhs, instructions 680xx qui n'existent pas.

Gcc assemble tr&s bien le code sans warning.

En examinant le code de l'ex&cutable, j'ai trouv& qu'il remplace Blo par Bcs.

DevPac3, transforme Blo et Bhs en Nop.

DevPac2, convertit Blo en Bcs (Carry Set), Bhs en Bcc (Carry Clear) comme Gcc.

Que signifie donc les instructions Blo et Bhs pour ceux qui les utilisent(aient) ?

Par quelles instructions les remplacer correctement ?

Voici un exemple:

   [...]

cd1loop2:
   pea    xbufptrs move.w #141,-(SP) trap   #14
   addq.l #6,SP

   move.l sambuf_ptrs+4,d1 move.l xbufptrs,d0
   cmp.l  d1,d0
   blo.s  cb1loop2              <----------<< move.l endofbuf,d1

   cmp.l d1,d0
   bhi.s cb1loop2

cb1ret:
  [...]
```

Sinon, en regardant mon manuel du 68000 ⍰ l'instruction CMP, il est dit qu'il peut positionner le bit de retenu du CCR.

Quelqu'un peut m'expliquer dans quelle condition une comparaison peut positionner ce bit de retenu (carry) ?

Merci pour votre aide.

Jean-Marc

Selon toute logique :
BLO = Branch if LOwer BHS = Branch if Higher or Same le tout en non sign►

par analogie avec :
BHI = Branch if HIgher et BLS = Branch if Lower or Same en non sign►
qui existent bien, elles.

Dans ce sens, il me semble que BLO est bien ►quivalent ► BCS, et que BHS vaut BCC.

Dans le doute, tu peux toujours inverser les op►randes de la comparaison et utiliser un mn►monique standard 68k.

Ex :

     cmp      d1, d0
     blo.s    xixi
se transforme en
     cmp      d0, d1
     bhi.s    xixi
```

et dans le m►me ordre d'id►e

     cmp      d1, d0
     bhs.s    xaxa
se transforme en
     cmp      d0, d1
     bls.s    xaxa
```

Hello.

Is possible to change the flag SELECTABLE of a color icon object during the runtime of a programm?

If the answer is "yes".....how??? :-)

Thanks.

Hi Lonny

 > It's quite possible, in fact you can alter any part of an object.

Yes i know ob_state can be altered, but i mean ob_flags.
I was refering to the SELECTABLE ob_flag not the SELECTED ob_state.

Example:

I have a color icon that isnt SELECTABLE when the application starts, you click on it and nothing happens, and i want to make it SELECTABLE (flag 0x0001) in some parts of my application, then the user can click on it and the ICON will change.

> If you are not using GFA I can't give real examples, maybe someone else

I'm using C, i know about objc_change( ) AES function but i think only can change ob_states not ob_flags.

Thanks

OK i understand now what you mean.

May be there is a C library with a function like you were describing (OB_FLAG), i$m using Windom library and there isnt nothing similar, only ObjcChange() that only change ob_states.

Anyway i found another way to do what i wanted using graf_mkstate(), objc_offset() and objc_change.

Thanks again.

Hi!

More about color icons.

In an application that i□m programming i have some color icons in a window, when the mouse button is depressed on them the icon will change its form until the mouse button is released. Not always but sometimes during the redraw the icon flickers (it□s possible to see during a short time a white form where the icon is, i think this is called flicker).

I have read about Xbios Vsync( ) used to code demos and games to avoid flickering, but i think this call does nothing in GEM programming, I put this call before an objc_draw( ) AES call and i couldn□t see any benefit. Moreover i read many times Xbios calls must be avoid it programming "clean" applications.

Anybody nows any trick to avoid those flickers?

Thanks.

David G□lvez.

Obviously you can't use this as it stands but 'tis well enough documented to show what wants to be done. Haven't been near this stuff in years: basically 'wd[]' is an array of AES windows and 'wdi' denotes which one. The 'wd_ob' member is an AES OBJECT[] structure. And, iirc, pug_edit manipulates the visual state of the text cursor, pug_fredraw causes a redraw of the OBJECT.

uint
pug_obflags(wd,wdi,obi,av,xv) PUG     wd[];
int     wdi;
int     obi;
uint    av,
        xv;
/*[     uint    pug_obflags(wd,wdi,obi,av,xv)
        PUG     wd[];
        int     wdi;
        int     obi;
        uint    av,
                xv;

wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi].ob_flags is ANDed with 'av' then XORed with 'xv' then the result is written back to wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi].ob_flags which is also returned to the caller.

In effect, this allows the ob_flags field of an object in the tree wd[wdi].wd_ob to be read or written to. Any visual changes which are required will be performed.
]*/
{uint   newstate        =wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi].ob_flags;
 bool   turn_on         =false;

 newstate &= av;
 newstate ^= xv;

 if (newstate == wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi].ob_flags)   return newstate;

 /* check for edit cursor on -> off */ if     (
        (wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi].ob_flags & EDITABLE) &&
        (!(newstate & EDITABLE)) &&
        (wd[wdi].wd_edobi == obi)
        )       {

        pug_edoff(wd,wdi);
        wd[wdi].wd_edobi = NIL;
 }
 if     (
        !wd[wdi].wd_editing &&
        (newstate & EDITABLE) &&
        (!(wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi].ob_flags & EDITABLE)) &&
        (wd[wdi].wd_edobi == NIL)
        )
```

        turn_on = true

 wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi].ob_flags = newstate;

 if (turn_on)   pug_edit(wd,wdi);

 pug_fredraw(wd,wdi,obi);

 return newstate;
}
```

iirc...

 while (mouse_button_is_down)
   draw
```

...is gonna flicker like hell. Need to factor in some mechanism to implement...

 while (mouse_button_is_down)

the specifics myself.

Re other thread. Here's some more. ;-)

void
pug_fredraw(wd,wdi,obi)
PUG     wd[];
int     wdi;
int     obi;
/*[     void    pug_fredraw(wd,wdi,obi) PUG     wd[];
        int     wdi;
        int     obi;

This call forces a redraw of an object and its children starting at wd[wdi].wd_ob[obi] if at all possible. The redraw will take place if the window
has been opened and has been been subject to at least one WM_REDRAW message.

Most notably, this call cannot be used after pug_new_dial() and before the first call of pug_dialogue(), it will have no effect.
]*/
{Rect   ob_rr, wr,
        rr;
```

 /* ?is there any point? */ if     (
        (wd[wdi].wd_wh == NIL) ||
        !wd[wdi].wd_redrawn
        )

 /* object clipping rectangle */
 ob_rr = Objc_Clip(wd[wdi].wd_ob,obi); /* window work area */ wind_get(wd[wdi].wd_wh,WF_WORKXYWH,PRECT(wr));

 pug_edoff(wd,wdi);
 graf_mouse(M_OFF);
 wind_update(BEG_UPDATE);

 /* walk rectangles */ wind_get(wd[wdi].wd_wh,WF_FIRSTXYWH,PRECT(rr));
 while (rr.w && rr.h)   { /* ?do we redraw any part of this rectangle? */ if (rc_intersect(&ob_rr,&rr))   pug_redraw(NULL,wd,wdi,wr,rr);
        wind_get(wd[wdi].wd_wh,WF_NEXTXYWH,PRECT(rr));
 }

 wind_update(END_UPDATE); graf_mouse(M_ON);
 pug_edon(wd,wdi);
}
```

Looks much more complex than it is, due to the callbacks...

void
pug_redraw(evmp,wd,wdi,wr,rr)
EVM     *evmp;
PUG     wd[];
int     wdi;
Rect    wr,     /* work area */
        rr;     /* redraw area */ {int    clip[4];
 Rect   dr;

 /* clip redraw rectangle to screen */ wind_get(WH_DESKTOP,WF_WORKXYWH,PRECT(dr));
 rc_intersect(&dr,&rr);

 /* clip redraw rectangle to work area (safety) */
 rc_intersect(&wr,&rr);

 /* ?user supplied routine? */
 if (wd[wdi].wd_fcp)
```

```
        (*wd[wdi].wd_fcp)(PUG_NIL,evmp,wd,wdi,rr)

 /* draw our bit */
 objc_draw(wd[wdi].wd_ob,ROOT,MAX_DEPTH,rr);

 /* ?text to draw? */
/* if (wd[wdi].wd_pgt)  pg_redraw(wd,wdi,rr);*/

 /* ?user supplied routine? */
 if (wd[wdi].wd_fcp)
        (*wd[wdi].wd_fcp)(PUG_ONE,evmp,wd,wdi,rr)

 /* ?user supplied routine? */
 if (wd[wdi].wd_fcp)
        (*wd[wdi].wd_fcp)(PUG_TWO,evmp,wd,wdi,rr)
```

...EVM plays no role. It's an evnt_multi structure that app-supplied callbacks would have been interested in, maybe to aid in dealing with the precise problem you're having. Heck, I only wrote it. Doesn't mean I can remember!!!

After some experiments, I have found the problem.

I have to do something like this:

- first create a MFDB with the "mask" of the picture.

- after draw the icon with a correct mode.

The code is like this:

vrt_cpyfm( handle, MD_TRANS, pxy, &mask_icon, &screen, colors);
mode = planes > 8 ? S_AND_D : S_OR_D; vro_cpyfm( handle, mode, pxy, &icon, &screen);
```

It's not fast as the NVDI5 functions but it's work.

thx

Here are some new versions of my tests programs (153 Kb):
http://membres.lycos.fr/pmandin/download/cleancode-0.13.zip

The archive contains the latest version of:
- the PCIBIOS test program (I hope it REALLY works now).
- the audio XBIOS test program (with Falcon ext. clock detection).
- the video XBIOS test program (with NOVA support).

If you have a Falcon with an external clock, could you test and report the audio test. Thanks.

Hello Atari users,

Here are some new versions of my tests programs:
http://membres.lycos.fr/pmandin/en/perso.html#Cleancode

The archive contains the latest version of:
- the PCIBIOS test program (more info given, full names for devices)
- the audio XBIOS test program.
- the video XBIOS test program (Milan MVDI modified).

If you have a Falcon or clone with an external clock, the test may crash the program (as it is still in the works). If you have a Milan with MVDI, the current mode info should be nearly available. Please test. Thanks.

Due to the way Lycos now handle downloads, I can not give direct URLs to files anymore.

You may want to check your prices. B & C Computervisions has new Atari 130XE systems for than you want for a 32K Atari 800 that needs parts to be usable. I'm not trying to be an ass, but if you seriously want to sell the equipment, you should look at Atari retailers and on Ebay to see what the going prices are for what you are selling.

Hello everybody,

I am very happy that some programmers made there programms in more that one version, and one is 68020 compiled in order to run faster on clones with 68040/40.

I noticed that till now nobody did the same for graphic capabilities.
Well, I don't mean sp⍰cial graphic routines for ET6000 because it would request too much work for a too much small amount of owners (I got that reply),
I mean making programms simply using Vro_copyfm when a graphic card is detected and a very fast display is needed.

We, Milan an Had⍰s users, made some test using functions that increase speed on our computers :
- Move16 assembler instruction : only available since 68040 and must be half line aligned. Moves 16 bytes in one time and works only for ram-ram copy.

It is 40% faster than 4 xmove.l.

- vro_copyfm : slow as usual for ram<>ram or ram<>screen transfer, but faster than light for screen<>screen transfer (sprites have to be stored in the not displayed graphic ram).

Here are some results and an example.

Test of sprite display with an S3 trio graphic card and a 68040 :

```
Test Transfert Image RAM->screen :
Vro_copyfm : Transfert Image 100x: 872/200 secondes
Move16     : Transfert Image 100x: 196/200 secondes
MOVE.L     : Transfert Image 100x: 234/200 secondes

Test Transfert Image screen->screen :
Vro_copyfm : Transfert Image 100x: 46/200 secondes
Move16     : Transfert Image 100x: 957/200 secondes
Move.L     : Transfert Image 100x: 981/200 secondes

Dur□e Scrolling: 6301/200 secondes

A very good idea.

MOVE16 is faster because it bypasses the cache (unless the data it needs to read is in there) and thus does not need to read an entire cache line before writing to it (which a normal write with MOVE must do).
I'm not sure what MOVE16 would do when writing to uncacheable memory (which would not require the cache line load), as should be the case with graphics card memory. Possibly the CPU and chipset could work together to do a burst transfer over the PCI bus.

Since MOVE16 requires the source and destination addresses to be 16 byte aligned, however, it is not something that can be used all the time, unfortunately.

>- vro_copyfm : slow as usual for ram<>ram or ram<>screen transfer, but faster

There's nothing that's stopping vro_cpyfm from using MOVE16, or any other optimized memory transfer method, obviously. The VDI will have some overhead, though, which can be significant for small blits.

Also, note that there's no guarantee that you even _can_ access the screen with direct CPU accesses. That's normally true when using the native fVDI driver for ARAnyM, for example.
The normal Atari mode drivers for fVDI can be used in a mode where direct screen access will not work together with VDI drawing, due to the use of a separate 'shadow buffer' (in fast RAM on an AB040 or CT60).
While the screen is accessible directly with the standard configuration of the fVDI RageII (Eclipse) driver, making use of that can have serious performance considerations (the display memory is banked using the MMU), and can even cause infinite bus error loops on an '040 (due to the fact that there is only a single bank).

>than light for screen<>screen transfer (sprites have to be stored in the not >displayed graphic ram).

fVDI/RageII should normally be configured to cache smallish blits from RAM to the screen in graphics card memory, by the way, as well as background save/restore blits from screen to RAM and back again.

># Test of sprite display with an S3 trio graphic card and a 68040 :

Note that a sprite is seldom an unmasked NxM block. If you do any kind of masking, MOVE16 will be useless. MOVE16 also will not be able to place your sprites at other than 16 byte aligned addresses.

Masked sprites could be significantly faster using the VDI, since you'd presumably use mono-expand blit to write the mask and then you just write the entire sprite to the blit engine and let it worry about combining the data with what's already on the screen.

># Test Transfert Image RAM->screen :

>Move16   : Transfert Image 100x: 196/200 secondes
>MOVE.L   : Transfert Image 100x: 234/200 secondes

Assuming that the image was largish, that sounds like a bad implementation of vro_cpyfm.

Anyway, I didn't see any pointer to your test programs, but I'd be interested in trying them out under ARAnyM as well as fVDI/RageII on an AB040.
In general, I'm interested in hearing from people who have good ideas about things to add/change in the VDI to better support games and similar software.

Hello,

As you can see in the tests, it work faster too.

Right : it isn't flexible.
Half-line aligned = adress/16 ? I don't undderstand what is a 'line'.

Real drawback of the MOVE16 on 68060 : when the superscalar mode is enabledd this function seems to be a bit slower. Only a bit, but it is.

Also, note that there's no guarantee that you even _can_ access the screen with direct CPU accesses. That's normally true when using the

Ok

To much complex for me.

Only designed for graphic card ?

Sorry, that programms are not mine. I asked the autor for sharing his

I have a complete in box, never used atari portfolio that I'm hoping to trade for a pc engine in good condition. I also have some portfolio accessories to sweeten the deal, if required. I live in Australia.

In two words (IMHO):
 - (p)threads: easier to implement background downloading on a multitasking system
 - MiNT-Net sockets: reliable implementation of a standard network API.

Background downloading is for computers with DMA, for my good Had>s I feel too much the loss of power as the CPU had to do everythings (no DMA with a 68060).

I have recently started rewriting my old stock-controller program (I'm just about up to 14000 lines, and the original was almost 40000 lines of C) , and use a semaphore to detect if another copy of the program is running. However, sometimes I strike a problem ..

(I could probably have used a "find my app name in the /proc directory and search for duplicate names" instead of a mutually-exclusive semaphore)

The code fragment looks something like this

#define semaphore_id    '....'

#define CREATE    0
#define RELEASE    1

int main( void )
{
    ap_id = appl_init();
    i( ap_id == -1 )
        return errorNoApplInit;

    if( multitasking() )  {
        // non-zero return code = failed to create semaphore if( Psemaphore( CREATE, semaphore_id, 0 ) )  { form_alert( 1, "[3][Another copy of this app is running][ Quit ]" );
            appl_exit();
            return errorCantGetSemaphore;
        }
    }

    ...   // do stuff

    if( multitasking() )
        Psemaphore( RELEASE, semaphore_id, 0 );
    appl_exit();
    return E_OK;    // I think that's a return code of 0

Unfortunately, sometimes the program would crash/bomb while "doing stuff", then the next invocation of the program [with a bugfix to prevent the crash/bomb] would find the semaphore still alive, and be unable to continue (it would have a different pid, and mint would return EACCDN during the create semaphore call)

The only way I can seem to fix the problem is to quit all running processes, and reboot the machine. (Is there something obvious I am overlooking?)

(The problem does not occur if the program exists correctly, and then I run it again)

According to the 1993-ish copy of the Compendium, the only process that can release a semaphore is the owner, and that one has crashed before it could do so, so the semaphore seems to still be owned by a [now deceased] process.

Is there a "list/kill semaphores" utility I can run from within Mint?

I presume it will be a text-mode program, and I'd most likely need to be logged on as "root"

I'm using Lattice C 5.60 as my compiler, and I'm running on a TT with memory protection enabled.

I'm using a 68030 version of Mint 1.15.9, Mintnet (I forget the version number it displayed at bootup), AES 4.1

That is not actually true.
For example on my Hades060 if I am on IRC or surfing the web, someone can be uploading files to my ftp server on the same machine.

If you have a Hades and you are using just the built in single tasking TOS, that is a serious waste of horse power. I often have 6 or more applications running at any given time. If you install NVDI (gdos)
the Hades will render fonts and such even faster. ;-)

If the program crash/bomb you get problems.
The best way is to catch signals from MiNT when somethings goes wrong and in the handler for a signal delete the semaphore before exiting the program.

I have that type of code in MyMAIL but I cant give a example now as I am siting at the work at the moment and have no access to the source code.
If you like me to help do give me a mail to: erik.hall@tripnet.se

Hello,

I do the docs for Highwire. Just tried the latest version of Highwire under TOS and it worked fine. I was not connected to the Internet as I use MagicNet and MintNet with my cable modem, but it came up as always. Should work (I believe), if you are connected.

I am not a programmer, but the guys doing the job are slowly getting it into shape. It is taking some time, but things are getting done. It could go faster, but then Highwire would not as good as it could be. When it is done, it will be much better than anything the Atari computers have seen.

Yes, you need at least a GDOS (be it GDOS 1.0, FontGDOS, SpeedoGDOS, NVDI, fVDI, TTF-GDOS or whatever) for displaying fonts but a multitasking OS is not mandatory (yet?), at least for offline browsing.

Not necessarily, I was thinking of images here: Highwire could (will?
can?) layout and display the main page while downloading images in the background.

Hello everybody,

Thanks to all for your opinion.
I noted that this forum is flooded by Had►s user (-;

Ok : please tell me wich of the previous programm is free and easy to install, and where to get it.
I'm happy with CAB who is a great programm, but if Highwire runs fine on my computer I'm dying to try it.

What's I meant is that we feel less the loss of speed with a DMA rather than with a computer driven by one CPU who do all the job.

What's would make me happy is just to place the rom Tos in ram an run it there :
does anyone knows if it is possible ?
Only Gemram16 seems to work and the result isn't tremendous.

For more Hades info, see:
http://www.q1.net/~atari/
Follow the Clone link.
There is a mailing list for Hades/Milan users you can join if you wish to meet more people. Not everyone with a Hades comes to usenet.

I cannot fully comment on all of these, as I only use NVDI.
NVDI is commercial, but well worth the money.

As far as I know this is the only program that does that which works on the Hades.

Hello everybody,

In the AUTO folder is fp3.prg and it contain 'a pseudo DMA routine because it is faster in ram than in rom'.

I made many transfer tests speed with and without fpu3 and didn't notice any change.
Did you got transfer speed change with or without it ?

Does anyone knows where I can get the source code ? I would like to know what is in this routine.

If that is the same as fpu_3.prg in my auto folder, it is from Medusa.
You would need to talk to Fredi at Medusa Computer Systems.

I have never done any speed tests.
